The Students of

VANCOUVER
COLLEGE

Present for you

"The spirit given to him was one that would not shrink from hardship; it was a spirit of action, of love, and love has no room for fear."

The 1979 Collegian

Vancouver College is one of the many Christian Brothers schools founded by Edmund Ignatius Rice for the education of Catholic youth. The faculty, consisting of 55 religious and lay staff, instructs 806 students, including residents, in grades one through twelve. The Brothers' Congregation at 5400 Cartier Street, Vancouver, has been serving British Columbia since 1922.

The last of the seventies

Michael

Michael you stand here remembering, wondering, hoping and
At times realizing twelve years gone forever;
Throughout, Vancouver College has remained steadfast and Untiring in its Christian work.
Recognition of future choices: a job, a vocation,
Issues that are foremost in '79.
Time has a meaning Michael; decision needs a
Yeilding of heart and soul.
Grateful for years past, hopeful in years future,
Resolutions are formed and firmed in a pensive soul, while
Only time will verify your choice.
Where are you going?, What are you doing?
Twelve years have now culminated, so
Hope and move forward in our changing world.-your next phase.

The first of the nineties

Peter

Peter's happy, joyful, carefree soul enjoys life completely.
Enter Vancouver College to shape and mould,
Always remaining steadfast in Christian virtue.
Conscious only of the here and now, with Every moment precious in our eyes, Peter and Fellow Grade Ones prepare for a future world
Uniquely theirs, not ours.
Little do these future leaders realize the changing time,
Continuous in its movement, relentless in its monotony;
However they are prepared by loving, ready hands
Imitating the care of God.
Leading and guiding.
Demonstrating the worth of the Nineties child.

Michel s'approche de l'omega.
 Pierre est l'alpha brillant.

Br. Basil celebrates his 25th.

This year it is 25 years since Brother Basil entered the religious life. Brother Basil, or Frans Blom, was born in 1930 in Welft, Holland as Number Ten in a family of eleven boys and four girls. This was a time of economic depression, often referred to as the "Dirty Thirties;" family allowance or any other form of social assistance was still unheard of.

The Blom family operated a small business in dairy products, and every day Mr. Blom could be seen pushing a handcart loaded with gleaming milk cans over the cobblestone streets of the city.

When Frans finished high school, he went to university to study agriculture. After two years he had to come home and take up a job to help a younger brother through university.

For two years he worked for an insurance company. In 1954, he entered the Congregation of Brothers of Our Lady of Lourdes. The deep religious spirit of the Blom family was apparent, as three boys and one of the girls entered the priesthood or the religious life.

The hard-working spirit of the Blom family is exemplified by Mr. Blom, who lived to be 88 years old. Mrs. Blom, who is 86, is still in good health and helps take care of the grandchildren.

It is with great joy that we congratulate Brother Basil and wish him a long and happy life with us at Vancouver College.

2. He always has something to throw out to the students.

Br. Penny; 45 years of service

A former principal of Vancouver College, Brother William C. Penny, died in Salinas, Cal., in July 1978, of complications following heart surgery. He was 66 years of age.

Brother Penny was principal from September 1948 until June 1954. He arrived the year after the disastrous fire that destroyed the third floor of McCormack Hall and did serious damage to much of the remainder of the building. Under his capable direction, permanent repairs were made and a new cafeteria was built — what is now the space used for art and industrial education. He also organized the campaign which permitted the erection of the Alumni Gymnasium, the provision of a long needed addition to the school facilities. The academic standing of the College also received strong emphasis under Brother Penny's administration.

Brother Penny's teaching career extended over forty-five years. He taught in Brothers' schools in New York City, in Birmingham, Michigan, in Honolulu, Hawaii and finally in Salinas, California. His many ex-pupils will remember him as a man of strong faith, of a brilliant mind, and of a wise and understanding heart.

We pray that God will reward him for his many years of service on our behalf.

ALWAYS FAITHFUL

We need not look far for those who display the qualities of greatness: humility, kindness, patience and other centeredness; in short, a willingness to serve. Mother Teresa of Calcutta sums it up beautifully when she says, "We must not count the costs."

In every segment of society we have people who work tirelessly, behind the scenes and never "count the costs", but the evidence of their work is obvious. Numerous jobs mysteriously find their way to completion. Our lives are made easier because of the endless uncomplaining efforts of these people.

We have many people whose marvelous spirit of generosity makes our every job much easier to perform. From the midst of the many, we have the ominous task of choosing but a few. These six people exemplify the spirit of those who serve our community so well: Br. Gerard, Mrs. Sadler, Br. Nolan, Mrs. Sendall, Mr. Olson and Grace Macdonald. The accumulative efforts of these people span almost a century. This is quite an indication of dedication and service to Vancouver College. To such people "Semper Fidelis" is more than an inscription; it is a way of life. We thank you and we appreciate you. You are indeed persons of service to us all.

TO THOSE WHO

ALSO SERVE

TO DO AND TO TEACH

1. Mr. Gordon Olson has been associated with our school for over twenty-seven years. This year he became an official staff member. We saw the school band, which enhanced the liturgies this year, flourish under his direction. 2. Mrs. Pat Sadler has been with the accounts department for the past five years. Her warm smile and personable approach to people make Pat much more than just personnel; she is more a friend to those who visit the treasurer's office. 3. Brother Nolan has been with the Brothers for twenty-one years. Six of them have been at College. A truly active and involved person; he heads the English Department, is moderator of the Student Council and Leadership Conference and is Superior of the Brothers in residence at College. 4. Mrs. Sendall has played an important part at College for the past eighteen years. She worked here as a volunteer for many years before becoming the Elementary Librarian. She has held this position for ten years. We could not possibly list Nora's full duties but she somehow finds time to organize a library, be a resource person and substitute for other teachers when called upon. 5. "Find Br. Gerard!" This cry for help goes out daily from all corners of the school. Br. Gerard calmly and patiently heads to the disaster area to repair whatever has broken down. Br. Gerard's technical abilities are outweighed only by his resilient and youthful approach to life which make him a favorite of staff and student alike. 6. Grace Macdonald has played a major role in the cultural achievements of Vancouver College for the past eight years. Her talents as choreographer have placed our musicals among the best high school productions in British Columbia.

BR. L.A. ANGEL

Br. Angel is no stranger to the halls of V.C. He has spent a total of 15 years with us. This puts him in the League of veterans with men like Brothers Breen and Kelly. Special Events

More than just brick and mortar.

When we speak of our alma mater, we usually find ourselves expounding its academic and institutional qualities. However, are these the only memories that we will retain, or are there deeper and more indelible impressions that have been etched in our minds during our past year in school? Although the process of academic progress was of great importance, the sense of community which was fostered in the halls, classrooms and on the playing fields of V.C. this past year takes precedence.

We have been enriched in many ways. We have all made our own degree of investment and, in turn, had our chalices filled. Days, weeks and months of sharing and togetherness have drenched us in feelings felt of and for one another.

One day, while driving down some highway, your names will cross my mind and your faces will rise before me. I will wonder the wonder of the absent: where are they now?, what are they doing?. And so I hope that you realize that Vancouver College is more than just brick and mortar. Indeed, it is much more. It is people working, playing, sharing and praying together to form a living, viable community of meaningful people.

1. Monsignor Nichol, pastor of Saints Peter and Paul Parish, and Father Whelihan celebrate our first Mass of the year. 2. On the first day of school Mrs. Campbell, at left, welcomes parents and her little Grade Ones, who are at the starting point of twelve years of V.C. energy and excitement. 3. After the rest of the student body had gone to their separate classrooms, our principal, Br. Maher, held back the Grade Twelves to explain to them the influential position they were holding as the future graduates of V.C. 4. Coming back from two months of relaxation, the students were united with their new and old friends for a chat outside the gym. 5. During their rare spare time in early September, a majority of the V.C. residents occupied themselves in front of the T.V. set.

Spirit: the everlasting source of energy.

This decade has been marked by a cry, throughout the world, of an insufficient supply of energy. We have seen both extremes: the hoarding of natural resources, and the inability to utilize them.

At College, we have never suffered from an energy crisis. Outstanding support remains the conspicuous feature of V.C. student spirit. Without overlooking all those successfully held pep rallies, our spirit was often emphasized through the students' overwhelming enthusiasm in the activities around the school. Their remarkable eagerness to attend games, cheering to encourage the team and participation in the walkathon, musical, and any number of other events, displays a sense of unequalled devotion to the school. The College pennant looms high to display its ever-present source of energy.

1. Before the Archbishop Trophy playoff against N.D., Coach Kelly commented that his football team needs some more tremendous support. 2. "We've got spirit, how 'bout you?" 3. The fact that over 800 inspirational students participated is one element of a successful walkathon. 4. Here, Doug Oddy demonstrates that the Grade One's also have the helping spirit. 5. The College lettermen, Gary Sanvido and Joe Mackinnon, coloured their faces with war paint for MORE energy in this basketball pep rally.

Tomorrow's leaders prepare their tactics.

Vancouver College played host to over one hundred students from twenty schools who came here to participate in the 7th Annual International Student Leadership Conference held on November 24-25.

Conference co-chairmen Mark Hagemoen and Paul Borchert, under the guidance of moderator Br. Paul Nolan had worked hard since September in setting up and organizing the conference.

The conference was such a success that the idea was applied on a local level. Some of the students who were involved in the International Conference set up a Leadership Conference format which was put forth to the grade ten students for a day.

The input and enthusiasm of the students was encouraging for future plans.

The conference puts its main emphasis on student leadership and interaction within both school and society. Leadership is stressed through the five objectives of the I.S.L.I. — support, awareness, self-confidence, positive thinking and values.

1. Br. Maher and Mark Hagemoen sort out the calendar of events. 2. Eager Beaver Gofers. 3. Matt Lakowski 'questions' the outcome of this poster. 4. Relaxation is one element of success. 5. Michele Paris, Paul Gatto, and Kevin Ridley discuss the day's events. 6. Discussion groups fell into fascinating debates. 7. Br. Nolan administered the Holy Blood. 8. Fr. Leahy revealed some of the elements of leadership.

"Oliver" — "Reviewing the situation".

"Please sir, I want some more!" This was the cry of the audience after having seen the outstanding performance of the Vancouver College Grammar School boys and Little Flower Academy girls as they staged the well known musical, "Oliver".

On February 1 and 2 at Prince of Wales Auditorium, the combined talents of Gerald Shaffer as Oliver, Sean Murphy as the Artful Dodger, Bernie Coulson as Fagan and Lana Porter as Nancy, thrilled the audience.

Through long and tedious hours of rehearsals, this core group of performers gave new life to favourite characters. The whole cast deserves a round of applause for a job well done.

However, the success of this production was not accomplished through the work of a few individuals. The enthusiasm of people who volunteered hours of free time enabled those who took part to share in a sense of achievement and near perfection. Our warmest thanks and congratulations to Mrs. June Koch, musical director, Mrs. Carol Coulson, choreographer, Mr. Jim Lattimer, technical director, Mrs. Sendall, costumes, Mr. David Dewar, set designer, Br. Conti, producer, Mrs. McLean, ticket sales, and the many, many other people who helped with make up and on stage work and props.

1. Br. Conti always kept things orderly, especially the kids. 2. Mrs. Coulson made sure that her son looked his best before going on stage. 3. Mrs. Koch demonstrates to Mrs. Coulson, Mr. Lattimer and students, the right way to do it. 4. Sean Murphy and Lana Porter show their expertise in singing and dancing to the tune of "I'll Do Anything". 5. Sean demonstrates the artful craft of picking pockets to Gerald Shaffer as Oliver. 6. Orphanage life in the 1800's was a "GRUELLING" experience. 7. "You can go but be back soon," warns Fagan as the Artful Dodger prepares Oliver for his first pilfering job. 8. The Little Flower Academy girls add a delightful touch of grace to Fagan's number. 9. Gerald Shaffer did a terrific job on the number "Where is Love".

Junior orators hypnotize their audience

Tremendous talent was displayed when the Elementary School held its fourth annual Oratorical Contest. Finalists from all grades were judged by Br. Maher, Sister Helen from L.F.A., and Fr. Whelihan. Sean Murphy was the overall winner with 44 other trophies and certificates being awarded throughout the evening.

1. Igor Antognetti leaps into action. 2. Harvey Hill tops his grade. 3. Matthew Nathanson prays for Br. Maher's mercy. 4. An enthusiastic crowd cheers on the speakers. 5. Gerald Shaffer, "Please sir, may I have some more?" 6. Sean Murphy regains his overall title in the contest.

Strathcona — a wilderness experience.

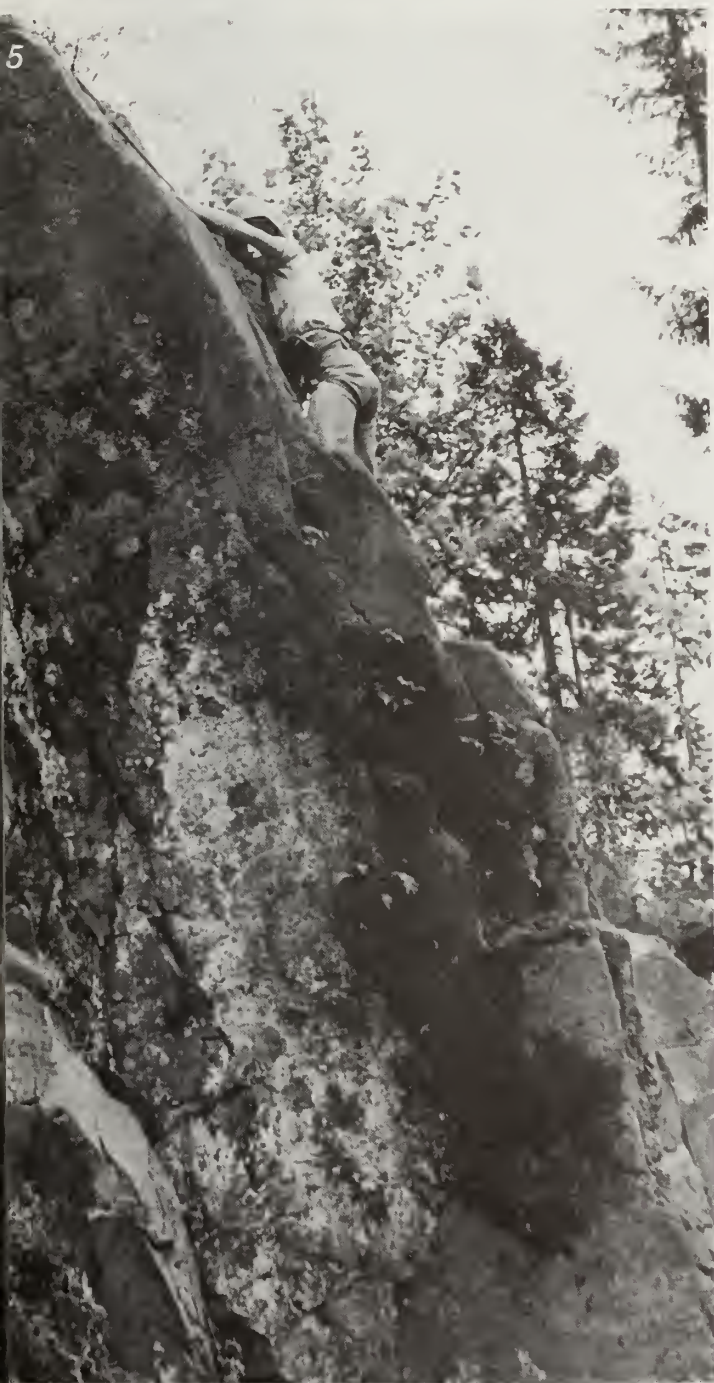

The trip to Strathcona proved to be both exciting and educational. A week just was not enough time to complete even half the activities offered by the professional outdoorsmen.

From 6:30 a.m. when we were awakened by the clanging of a ship's bell until lights out at 10:30, everyone was kept active. Some groups headed out for overnight trips while those at base camp were taught the basic skill of rockclimbing, first-aid, canoeing, kayaking, map reading and, most thrilling of all, learned the manoeuvres of a commando rope course.

A no sugar health food diet took some getting used to, but the opportunities for learning something different soon sweetened the pot for all.

1. "Sure I can row this canoe; but where is the other oar." 2. "Look Ma, no . . . A!A!A!A!" 3. "But Mr. Kim, I don't like chicken hearts!" 4. "Hi, ho! Hi, ho! It's off to the bog we go!" 5. Mr. G., are you sure this is part of the P.E. program?" 6. "Back off you guys. I saw her first!" 7. Hey guys, that's a funny looking teepee.

Vancouver College Fighting Irish

Graduates

Twelve year men . . .

SIMON FRANZ BACHMANN

"Si" is another twelve year man, having gone the distance at College in his quest for knowledge. During his stay, he has distinguished himself both on the football field and in the classroom, where he is a consistent honour roll student. After football season, he leads the stage crew in its fight to finish musical sets on time. Outside of school, he enjoys both water and snow skiing. Simon's future plans include a year of work before continuing his education at U.B.C.

JAMES JEROME FAVERO

On September 5, 1967, Jim followed in his brother's footsteps when he enrolled in first grade at V.C. Since that time he has taken an active part in all phases of College life, including intramurals, track, and Varsity sports support. In his spare time Jim can be found working at Jantzen's or involved in such activities as skiing, swimming, boating and hiking. Jim plans to continue his education next year at Vancouver City College.

MICHAEL ERNST JÜRGEN FAHRMANN

One of the elite twelve year men, Mike has proven himself both academically and athletically. A consistent honour student, he has actively participated in intramurals in addition to being on the soccer team. His well-known love of legal tender led to his appointment as the business editor of this year's Collegian. Outside of school Mike enjoys a wide scope of activities, ranging from hockey, fishing, and sailing to stamp collecting and playing chess. After graduation Mike plans to reward himself with a well-earned trip to Europe. Upon his return he will enter U.B.C. to study commerce.

RICHARD ANTHONY FOLEY

Another of that rare breed known as the twelve year man, Rich has made the trek from his house in Burnaby to College for longer than he cares to remember. Rich devotes much of his spare time to playing hockey and football, and, especially, skiing. However, during this age of snow crisis he is forced to spend more of his spare time on such things as cars, boats, and parties. In the near future, Rich plans to attend S.F.U. in the Faculty of Arts.

JOHN MICHAEL KENNEY

Yet another twelve year man, the Roving Irishman has been stalking the halls of College and harassing teachers for almost as long as he can remember. When not working or trying to keep up his grades, Mike enjoys swimming, cross-country skiing, and playing the clarinet. He is a fulltime member of the Beefeater Band, and a veteran of two College musicals, as well as a loyal supporter of the Liturgical Committee. After graduation, his plans include U.B.C. and a career in either music or electronics, as well as lots of travel.

DOMÉ PETROLEUM

MICHAEL LOPIANOWSKI

Michael started at College in grade one. Although the continuity of his studies at the College was briefly interrupted when he attended grade nine at St. Thomas' College in Saskatchewan, Michael still considers himself a twelve year man. Although an intensive student, Michael still finds time to take part in extra-curricular activities, including being a photographer for the yearbook.

On weekends, Michael devotes some of his time to flying, parachuting, socializing, or building airplane models. He likes the prestige of a uniform, so after graduation he intends to participate in a vigorous military training program at Chilliwack during the summer. This is preparatory to Royal Military College, after which Michael hopes to take to the skies as a pilot.

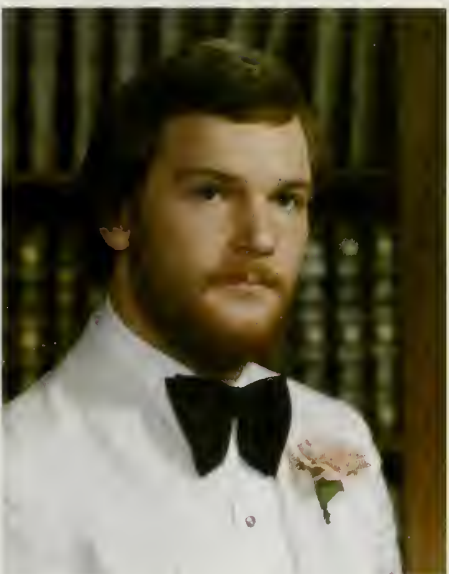

WILLIAM GREGORY LYNCH

Another of our illustrious twelve year men, Greg knows all the secrets of how to survive at College. He participated in both football and basketball in his earlier years and in his last two years has been active in the musicals as a member of the stage crew, but Greg's favourite pastime is hockey, having played for 11 years. He also enjoys skiing, parties, and cars. Greg's plans after graduation include attending U.B.C. in the Faculty of Commerce and then going on to become rich and famous, living happily ever after.

JOSEPH CHRISTOPHER MILTON

Joe found his way into College twelve memorable years ago and, since then, he has busied himself in numerous activities, including the Student Council, the Musicals, the Poster Club and helping out with many miscellaneous activities around the school. Joe, being gifted with abundant athletic prowess, also participated in football, track, and intramurals. On weekends, one can usually find Joe playing tennis or skiing by day, and enjoying a movie or concert by night. Joe intends to further his education in the States and eventually become a wealthy and renowned architect.

THOMAS LEO MATTHEW MULHERN

Tom, an industrious twelve year man, has certainly left his mark at College. Enthusiastically engaged in all sports activities since grade three, Tom has played on several championship teams, and is undoubtedly one of the finest athletes this school has ever produced. Tom's interests do not lie solely in sports however, as he has earned nine academic medals during his stay at V.C. Outside of school Tom enjoys good music and likes to have a good time at parties and concerts. A tour of the United States and a football career are definitely in Tom's plans for the future.

IVAN LEONARDO REVELANT

Consistently holding a position at or near the top of his class since entering the College twelve years ago, Ivan longs for the day when his mental acuity will help to unite the world under a benevolent dictator (himself). Meanwhile, when he is not bicycling or performing suicidal feats on cross-country skis, he may be found ruining his mind with the music of Pink Floyd or Led Zeppelin. A chemist (mathematician?) at heart, Ivan will continue his education in the Faculty of Sciences at U.B.C.

RANDALL MICHAEL TICHELMAN

In his twelve years at College Randy has accumulated so many experiences that he is unable to recall them all. He has been involved in basketball, football, and track in the elementary grades and wrestling in grades eleven and twelve, not to mention the Dance Committee in grades nine and ten. Randy plans to enroll in U.B.C. to study commerce, with hopes of becoming a chartered accountant.

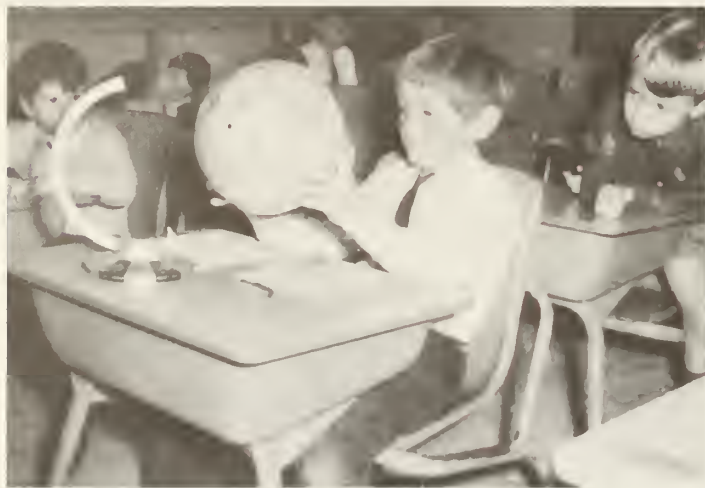

Yesterday . . .

Twelve years ago a group of boys entered the doors of V.C. for the first time. Only a select few, 11 to be exact, have remained to see graduation. Today their faces are well known throughout the school.

They eagerly took part in every aspect of the school ranging from sports to the yearbook, showing their personal leadership ability and willingness to learn.

Soon this special group will leave the halls of V.C. Their emergence as young Christian men is the culmination of years of the training and guidance of the brothers and lay staff who have served V.C. for the last 12 years.

"Oh! Oh! I'm in trouble now!" exclaims Richard Foley, as the curious Mike Lopianowski looks on.

This year's graduating class has certainly verified the belief that evolutionary development invariably leads to excellence in all fields of endeavour. Though varying widely in their stay at V.C., these energetic young men have developed to the highest levels of academic and athletic achievement — the Varsity football team's long-deserved victory over their arch-rivals, Notre Dame, attests to this fact. Though highly individual in character, these grads have developed a true sense of school spirit and mutual co-operation that in turn has led the school to shatter old records such as: the Walkathon, Yearbook and Mission campaigns.

Indeed, the Class of '79 will go into the world fully prepared to face the challenges that confront them, doing so with strength and fortitude.

1. Ken Scott examines his future next of kin. 2. At a Varsity football game, Phil Carhoun, Glen Petty, and Brent Guile eagerly anticipate an Irish touchdown. 3. Greg Lynch and Peter Chiang race to complete their English homework so as to avoid Br. Nolan's wrath. 4. Roland St. Cyr demonstrates his unique style of figure skating. 5. "Why can't geometry be as easy as art?" wonders Brent Guile. 6. Tim Fanning beats out an Irish war chant.

1. Who can say what volume of which encyclopedia Wolfgang Bohm is now reading? 2. The sticky threesome of Paul Borchert, Brian Milne, and Mark Hagemoen show their enthusiasm for Mr. Bell's French class. 3. "Now how did Mrs. Nass tell me to load this?" queries Fred Milton. 4. Brent Crich dives at an apparent opportunity for a checkmate. 5. Ivan Revelant dreamily casts his eyes into the Ad Lucem in hope of a good prospect for a date Saturday night. 6. Mike Fahrman watches with interest and amazement as a whale appears to greet him. 7. Steve Grout anxiously awaits the ball as the rest of the C.R. 12 class "scrum up" in rugby.

KENNETH EUGENE ARMSTRONG

Ken came from Rossland, B.C., two years ago to complete his secondary education as a resident student. Outside of the classrooms his main interests are hiking, skiing, swimming and listening to music. After working for a year, Ken plans to move to Alberta, where he will attend the University of Lethbridge.

PAUL JOSEPH BEAULIEU

The halls of College were blessed with Paul's arrival six years ago from St. Anthony's (Marpole). Since then, he has taken part on the Student Council and the soccer and wrestling teams. His interests outside of school include travelling, boxing, and hiking. When he leaves the College, Paul plans to go to U.B.C. or get his commercial pilot's licence so he can do the thing he likes to do the most: travel.

LAWRENCE SANCHARIB BENJAMIN

Larry came to the College five years ago from Captain James Cook School. Since then he has given generously of his time to intramurals, the Dance Committee, and support of the football and basketball teams. In his spare time, when he is not skiing or playing tennis, he enjoys the company of a few close friends. Larry's plans for the future include taking a year off from school to work and to travel before entering S.F.U. for a B.A. in General Education.

WOLFGANG PETER BÖHM

A native Vancouverite, Wolfgang moved to Delta at six years of age, attending Immaculate Conception there before entering V.C. in grade eight. Since then, he has arrived at school at 6:45 a.m. and has left at 4:00 p.m. every day — truly an involved lad! Wolfgang's favourite saying is: "Combine doing things with not doing things and you won't go crazy," a philosophy which has allowed him to pursue his main interests of reading, playing ping-pong, and listening to records while maintaining an honour student's average. Wolfgang will most probably further his education at U.B.C., concerning himself with either Arts or Sciences.

PAUL JOHN BORCHERT

Paul has spent five very active years in V.C. A true leader, Paul was sent to Notre Dame, Indiana, to attend a leadership conference. Among numerous other activities, he has performed in three musicals and was a member of the Liturgical Committee. Outside of school, Paul enjoys hiking and fishing and is a true "tennis bum". Paul has his eyes on entering U.B.C. and eventually going into the Faculty of Education.

DAMIAN JOHN BOTTESELLE

Damian came to College five years ago from Holy Trinity on the North Shore. In these years Damian has involved himself in football, intramurals and track and has been a good supporter of all the Irish teams. Outside of school Damian enjoys skiing, working on his highly powered Fiat, girls, and, of course, eating. After graduation Damian plans to go to Europe to do some skiing in the Italian Alps. Upon his return he plans to further his studies in either law or business management.

PAUL ERNEST BRIN

Paul has been patiently pacing the halls of V.C. for five years since his arrival from St. Andrew's, during which time he has been actively involved in football, basketball, and especially soccer, having been captain of the team for two years. His many extra-curricular activities range from coaching a soccer team to babying his car. After graduation, Paul plans to work for a year, thereafter enrolling in B.C.I.T. for a degree in heavy duty mechanics, as well as possibly a degree in business management.

PHILIP JOSEF CARHOUN

In the earlier years of the eleven he has spent at College, Phil was active in football and basketball and even dabbled in some track. Since then, Phil's interests have shifted outside of school. Tennis, scuba diving, and snow and water skiing are just a few of many activities that keep him busy. Phil intends to continue his education in business or possibly law.

RONALD WILLIAM CARTEN

Ron came to V.C. four years ago from St. Thomas High School in Montreal. Since then he has consistently outdone himself in playing soccer for the school. When not devoting his time to study, Ron takes in a myriad of parties, concerts and skiing trips. His plans for the future involve attendance at university in whatever fields interest him at the time.

Compliments of
WOODWARDS' STORES LTD.

GUSTAVO JOSEPH CARVALHO

After spending six years in Ottawa, Gus returned to Vancouver and entered V.C. in grade ten. Since then, Gus, a sports statistics buff, has been an enthusiastic supporter of many school activities, and, athletically, has been involved in all intramural activities, although he has sacrificed participating in many other school activities so as to retain enough spare time to partake in activities that appeal to him personally. Outside of school, he enjoys swimming, listening to music, golfing, reading, and going to the movies. Academically, he is a perennial honour roll student. After graduation, Gus' future plans include travelling and attending U.B.C.'s Faculty of Sciences, eventually studying medicine or dentistry.

PETER TAK-WAI CHIANG

Hong Kong's La Salle College was the loser when Peter came to us four years ago. During these years he has developed a deep fondness for our venerable institution, manifested in his enthusiastic support of all its activities. A talented athlete, Peter has been a member of both the Varsity basketball and track teams while consistently maintaining an honor student's academic record. His favourite activities include horseback riding, weightlifting and swimming. Peter plans to attend an American university and to pursue a career in aviation.

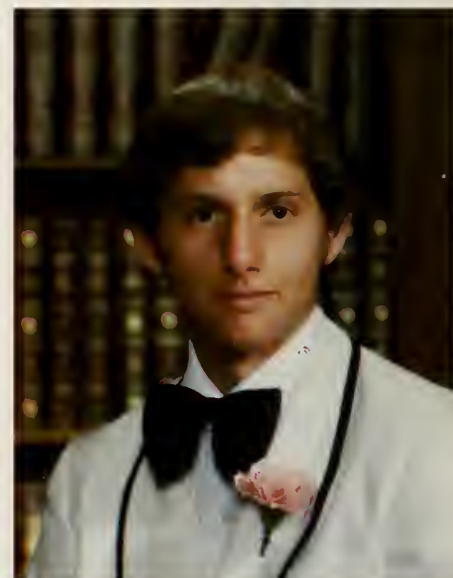

ROBERT ANDREW CLARKE

Bob came from Holy Trinity five years ago. Since then he has participated in football and has been an active supporter of basketball and other College sports. In his spare time, he enjoys both snow and water skiing, as well as four-wheel driving. After a year's sabbatical, Bob plans to study commerce at Capilano College.

JOSEPH PATRICK CREEGAN

Joe entered V.C. in grade eight, having previously attended David Lloyd George Elementary. Since then he has participated in the school newspaper, the VoiCe, becoming its editor in this, his graduating year. His other activities include swimming and drum beating. He plans to work with the railway this summer in Edmonton, returning to U.B.C. in the fall for an arts programme, with future studies in law foremost in his dreams.

BRENT LEIGH CRICH

Having skipped grade ten, Brent could have graduated last year, but instead decided to remain at College for an optional extra year in order to improve his over-all academic background. This has proven to be a real boom to the school, as Brent was instrumental in the organization of intramurals, both as a referee and a participant. His other activities include soccer, track, and cross-country skiing. Brent intends to study physics at the U.B.C. Faculty of Sciences for four years before entering Caltech, where he will major in astronomy.

MICHAEL GEORGE CSANYI

Coming to us from St. Augustine's, Mike has attended Vancouver College for five years. He has participated both in intramurals and track. Outside of school, Mike enjoys golf, tennis, and camping, but his favorite hobby is constructing home-made stereo speakers. This summer, Mike plans to travel in Europe, returning in the fall to continue his studies in architecture at U.B.C. or S.F.U.

DAVID MACKENZIE CULOS

Dave, a product of Westridge Elementary School in Burnaby, came to V.C. in grade eight. At school he is best known for his quick wit and ability to put a smile on the face of everyone he meets. On weekends, Dave works as a lifeguard at one of Burnaby's best indoor facilities, Bonsor Park Pool. He spends most of his leisure time swimming or playing racquetball. After graduation, Dave will enter U.B.C., where he hopes to major in law.

HOWARD MICHAEL DE LA CRUZ

Howard joined the V.C. crowd seven years ago after leaving Kobe, Japan, where he attended Marist Brothers' School. Since then he has been involved in football, the Liturgical Committee, the VoiCe, the Collegian, and two musicals, "The Music Man" and "Half a Sixpence". His other interests include photography, music, and skiing. Howard plans to attend U.B.C. in the Faculty of Arts, perhaps becoming a pilot in the Armed Forces after receiving his B.A.

PAUL JAMES ELLERY

Coming to us from St. Mary's Elementary, Paul has been on the school register for five years. During that time he has participated in a variety of sports, ranging from intramurals to the track and soccer teams. Outside of school, Paul's spare time is occupied with hiking, camping, and tennis. Paul is the first of four brothers who will be graduating from Vancouver College. After his graduation, Paul plans to work for the summer, after which he will pursue a degree in engineering.

Compliments of
HILL THE MOVER LTD.

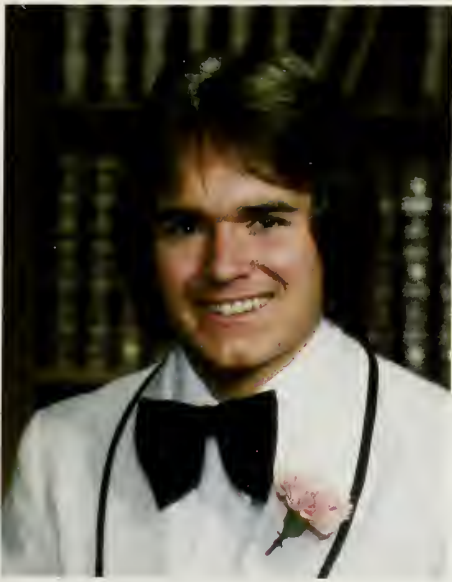

RUPERT THOMAS DUFFY

Rupert has blessed us with his presence for the last eight years. During this time, in addition to being a consistent honour student, he has written and criticized for the Voice, performed in the musical, "The Music Man", and shouted obscenities, in various languages, at referees during football games. In his spare time he enjoys skiing, blaring German opera on his stereo and trying to find out why his motorcycle always stalls at traffic lights. In the near future, Rupert plans to make the westward pilgrimage to the hallowed halls of U.B.C.

GREGORY PAUL FALCON

Greg came to the College from St. Anthony's, and has been commuting from the rain forests of West Vancouver since grade eight. Besides being involved in playing with a band, Greg enjoys skiing the slopes of Whistler (when in season) with his friends. Greg's future plans are aimed towards a musical career with his band. Failing this, he will be satisfied with becoming a nuclear physicist at the University of Southern California.

TIMOTHY RICHARD FANNING

Tim has been coming to College for five years from his comfortable home in Point Grey. While at V.C. he has enjoyed being on the track team, a career which was highlighted by a trip down the West Coast with the team in the spring of 1978. He has taken part in the Leadership Conference and the intramurals program, and has especially loved giving his spirited support to the football and basketball teams. Outside of school Tim can usually be found playing baseball at the local diamond. After graduation, Tim plans to further his education at Langara or U.B.C.

CONRAD JOSEPH FRISSE

Hailing from the wilds of Kitimat, B.C., Conrad has been a resident student for the past five years. When not contributing to the general well-being of the dormitory, he enjoys fishing, backpacking and canoeing in addition to the occasional game of handball or lacrosse. After graduation, Conrad hopes to take up a trade somewhere in his native northland.

VILIS EDUARDO GALVINS

Vilis arrived five years ago from Genral Gordon Elementary School. During his stay he has participated in, among other activities, the Liturgical Committee and intramurals. His outside activities include swimming, racquetball and tennis, playing with such celebrities as Mr. Mills and Brother Dawson. Vilis plans to attend B.C.I.T., studying Computer Programming and Systems.

JAMES MAURICE GREENE

Jim has been with us for six years since leaving Immaculate Conception. Throughout this time he has preoccupied himself with basketball, soccer, and girls. After a hard school day's work, Jim still finds time to support the school teams, coach soccer, and attend a variety of wild parties. After graduating, Jim plans to relax for a week or two before beginning his summer's work. Next fall he will enter U.B.C., with the goal of eventually becoming a chartered accountant.

MICHAEL CHARLES GREEN

Michael escaped from Esquimalt Senior Secondary two years ago to become one of our many honoured resident students, enjoying every moment of his stay. Participation in intramurals, bowling and the wrestling team has kept him in shape by off-setting the ill effects of the sedentary boarder's life. Mike's favourite distractions are tennis, camping, fishing and girls, although not necessarily in that order. He plans to study forestry at B.C.I.T.

Compliments of

AVALON HOTEL and MIKE'S RESTAURANT

STEVEN GREGORY GROUT

Since arriving from Immaculate Conception five years ago, Steve has been an active member of the Liturgical Committee, the Student Council, and the track and basketball teams. From his participation in class retreats and his vociferous support of football games, events which are so much a part of College life, he has acquired a feeling of school unity which he will remember long after graduation. This summer should find Steve working with the Vancouver Parks Board or just lying in the sun, preparing to continue his education in the field of Community Recreation at U.B.C.

BRENTON PETER GUILLE

Brenton's stay with us dates from the eighth grade. He immediately involved himself in sports, participating in football, basketball, and track in his freshman year. He continued to play football and basketball until grade ten, when he turned his attention to wrestling, which is his main sport to date. He has been a member of the stage crew of two musicals, "Half a Sixpence" and "Anything Goes". In his senior year he has applied himself to the graduate section of the Collegian as its editor. Brenton spends most of his spare time either driving or playing the piano. He also retreats to the slopes of Whistler Mountain almost every winter weekend to pit his skill against the moguls. Brenton plans to attend U.B.C., probably to acquire a law-commerce degree, taking one year off from his studies to travel in Europe.

MARK ANDREW HAGEMOEN

For five years now, Mark has commuted from the sunny shores of North Vancouver. In his earlier years, Mark took an active part in College's football and track program, while in his later years, Musicals, the Liturgical Committee, Leadership Conferences, and the Student Council have commanded his attention. His years at College have been most enjoyable and profitable. Outside of school, Mark enjoys hiking, playing the piano and meeting people. He plans to attend U.B.C. next fall in the Faculty of Arts.

PETER SIEU YONG HEAH

Singapore lost a valuable asset when Peter made Vancouver his home. In four years at College, he has actively participated in the Collegian, the Musical and the Liturgical Committee while maintaining a brilliant academic record. When not cheering at Varsity games or hitting the books, he can be found prowling the halls of V.C. with his camera, developing and printing film, bashing moguls at Whistler Mountain, landing salmon, giving parties, or just relaxing with a game of tennis. A career in chartered accounting follows graduation from an American university, possibly Harvard. He aspires to become a tycoon, eventually the wealthiest man in the world, or at least in Vancouver. We wish him luck!

TED JAMES HERB

V.C. was blessed with Ted's arrival seven years ago. He has participated in football throughout his stay, played basketball in his junior years and has worked with the stage crew of the musicals as a senior. An avid skier, Ted can usually be found either at the powder bowls of Whistler Mountain or at the seaside, "making cuts" on his water ski. His future plans include attending a university to acquire a business degree, so as to eventually open his own retail business.

Compliments of

HOCK MENG HEAH

Chris Ho shares a good laugh with Peter Chiang and Gus Carvalho before math class.

CHRISTOPHER PATRICK HO

Since leaving St. Francis Xavier, Chris has been faithfully attending our school for the last ten years. His favorite pastime, ice hockey, takes up much of his time, but he still has enough left over for such distractions as tennis, racquetball and music, not to mention his work as a Collegian staff member. His future plans entail attending an institute of higher learning, so as to earn a degree in engineering.

RICHARD ANGELO HOLMES

Angelo has thoroughly enjoyed his two years at College, having participated in intramurals and screamed madly at football and basketball games. His fondest memories are those he had acquired in Brother Dawson's Religion classes. In his spare time Angelo is a canoe and baseball buff. The future holds a brilliant career for Angelo as a lawyer.

CHARLES VINCENT IVANCIC

A daily commuter from Richmond, Chuck has participated in football, intramurals, the Yearbook, and soccer. He is active in the community both playing and coaching soccer; yet, despite his active frenzy, he still finds time to devote to reading and girls. Chuck will work for a year and possibly travel in Europe before continuing his education in the field of electronics.

KERWIN JOHN JARVIS

"K.J." entered College in grade four, coming from Regina, Saskatchewan. Living less than a block from the school has made travel to and from classes a pleasure for him. During his stay he has been involved in basketball, the Student Council and musicals. In his spare time, Kerwin takes a crack at skiing now and then, enjoys a leisurely game of golf and frequents weekend parties. Kerwin's plans for the future include entering the Commerce Department at U.B.C.

JAMES PATRICK KELLY

Jim came to us from Holy Trinity Elementary five years ago. Since then he has devoted his skills to both the Varsity football and basketball teams. During his spare time Jim enjoys skiing at Whistler, partying, and being with friends. Jim hopes to travel during the summer months before entering the field of commerce at the University of British Columbia.

ALEXANDER FREDERICK KOZIER

Fred first entered the halls of V.C. two years ago upon his departure from St. Patrick's High School. Since then he has participated in various intramural activities, as well as playing on the Varsity football team in his senior year, where he is affectionately known as "Ready Freddie". Outside of school, Fred enjoys skiing, hiking, listening to rock music, girls, and partying. After graduation, he intends to take a vacation in Europe, thereafter entering either Langara or U.B.C. to study law.

KAM ONN JAMES LAU

Kam came to V.C. after spending fourteen memorable years in Malaysia. Being shy and not athletically active, he found it difficult during his first year to take advantage of the many great activities College has to offer. However, he performed very well in school, as his name appeared on the honour list in grades nine and ten. In his second year, he became an active participant in intramurals. In fact, he is the organizer of intramural volleyball in grade twelve. Outside of school, the best place to look for Kam is at local discos and, during the winter, at Whistler Mt. as he has fanatically devoted himself to dancing and skiing. Kam's immediate priority is to graduate with a satisfactory average (in the 80's) and to continue his education at the University of Minnesota.

ANTHONY YING MING LAW

In 1976 Anthony began his V.C. career after finishing Form 4 at Wah Yan College in Hong Kong. Although he did not join any school teams, he is very active athletically and has participated in the school intramurals program. During his three years at College, Anthony has resided in the Senior Residence and has contributed his talents to the development of its family atmosphere. When not playing basketball or badminton after school in the gym, he can be found enjoying a challenging game of bowling or bridge. Calculators fill the rest of his hobby time. Next year, Anthony hopes to continue his studies in the field of computer science in Ontario.

PETER WAH LUN LEUNG

During his three years at College, Peter has participated in intramurals and has very much enjoyed being a spectator at our Varsity football and basketball games. When not studying, he enjoys bowling, tennis, snooker, and water skiing (during the summer). His chief goal after graduation is to further his education at an Ontario University, studying Civil Engineering.

Peter Leung retreats at the sight of a Collegian photographer.

TODD LORENZ

Since his stylish entrance into V.C. in grade eight, five short and memorable years ago, Todd's name has been emblazoned on many a playbook, photograph and late slip. Starting in J.V. and Varsity football, he is known best for his contribution to the famous "No Go Defense" and kicking game. The VoiCe, the Student Council, cheerleading and leadership institutes are but a few of the activities in which he has participated. Outside of school, Todd enjoys sleeping, eating, and partying. He plans to attend S.F.U. after graduation.

WILLIAM JOSEPH MacDONALD

Bill has been commuting between South Vancouver and V.C. for five years. An active participant in intramurals, he has also played on the College's soccer teams. Outside of school he enjoys baseball and parties. One of his most memorable experiences was learning that he had passed Chemistry 11. After working during the summer, Bill plans to either attend U.B.C. or travel.

BRIAN JOHN MACKAY

Brian came to V.C. five years ago from St. Anthony's school in West Vancouver. Since then he has participated in intramurals and thoroughly enjoyed the College life. For years to come, Brian will be able to reminisce over the fine times he had as a member of Br. Dawson's homeroom class. When not busy studying to keep up his grades, Brian can be found hiking, camping, cross-country skiing, cycling and repairing British sports cars. After a visit to Australia, the land of his birth, Brian plans to take up the study of dentistry at an as yet undetermined university.

JOSEPH RICHARD MacKINNON

Arriving from O.L.P.H. five years ago, Joe has enthusiastically participated in all facets of College life. In football, he played nose-guard on the infamous "No Go Defense of '77" as well as captaining the Varsity team in his senior year. He has also played on the school's basketball, track and hockey teams. Joe is an avid mission money collector, and claims that this experience has helped him increase petroleum sales at the local Esso station. His future plans are focussed on law at U.B.C. and a ski resort in the Swiss Alps.

DAVID HENRYK McGEE

Another "Richmond Rat", Dave has been travelling to and from College daily since his arrival in grade 8 from Mackay Elementary. During this period Dave has enjoyed dances and attending football and basketball games. His outside interests, too numerous to list fully, include girls, rock concerts, parties, and good times with his friends. Dave is also a member of the St. Joseph the Worker Youth Group, and is a science fiction fanatic. He intends to take business administration at B.C.I.T., and possibly move to England in the future.

BRIAN JOSEPH MCKEOWN

Brian came to V.C. from Southlands Elementary five years ago. In this time, he has been involved in both intramurals and the Liturgical Committee. When not studying or doing homework, he keeps in shape by cycling, taking long walks, jogging, and indulging in his favorite sport — skateboarding. Jobwise, he serves his country in the militia. Next fall, Brian plans to enter the Faculty of Arts at U.B.C.

Compliments of

SUNRISE PIZZA and STEAK HOUSE

Andrew Meyerhoff, Nino Mabanta, Doug McLeod, Glenn Petty and Brian MacKay stop for a quick pose on the way to the stands at an Irish football game.

DOUGLAS RICHARD McLEOD

A true outdoorsman, Doug enjoys almost all sports, including skiing, bicycling and swimming (in his spare time), as well as camping and hiking (during the summer months), although he often slips from his rigid routine in order to take in a party. A gift from Shaughnessy, Doug plans to work for a while, then travel across Europe and other parts of the globe. In the future, he will either join the police force or enroll in an Arts program at U.B.C.

ANTONINO FERNANDEZ MABANTA

A native of the Philippines, Nino was first observed trying to find his way through the grade eight hallway. A pioneer of the underhanded basketball shot, he also enjoys movies, parties, and following our school teams. Nino plans to go to university after a year's international travel.

BERNHARD MARQUARDT

Bernie first came to V.C. in grade seven from Ecole Saint-Sacrament. During his first stay at V.C. he played grammar school football, grade eight football, J.V. football and grade nine basketball. Having attended Eric Hamber in grades ten and eleven, Bernie came back to College for his last year, in which he played Varsity football. Bernie hopes to continue playing and coaching football while he pursues a teaching degree from U.B.C. or S.F.U.

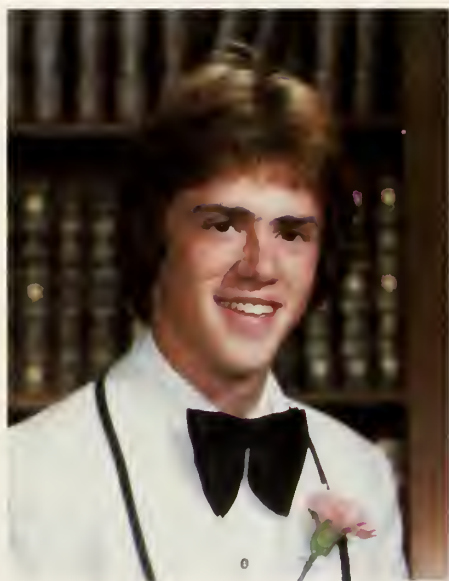

SAMUEL ANDREW MEYERHOFF

If David could take on Goliath, Sandy can take on the world. In his four years at V.C., Sandy has participated on the soccer team, the Dance Committee and the VoiCe. His hobbies include reading, writing, sports and girls. Sandy lives his life by one rule, "Yesterday is history, but tomorrow's changes start today." Sandy's future includes attending U.B.C. and obtaining a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree.

DOUGLAS JOSEPH MILLER

Doug joined us in grade eight after escaping from O.L.P.H. His activities at the school have included intramurals and the musical stage crew; outside of school, he enjoys playing hockey, going for a quick sail and surviving Friday night parties. Doug will further his education at U.B.C. in commerce.

BRIAN JOSEPH PATRICK MILNE

Brian came to College eight short years ago, and during this time has given many students the privilege of becoming Honorary Irishmen. Because of his 100% Irish heritage he has proven that there are two kinds of people in this world, those who are Irish and those who aimlessly wish they were. A fine example of true spirit. He has diligently participated in football, intramurals, soccer and the stage crew division of the Musicals. In his spare time he enjoys dancing, music, jogging, and an occasional game of basketball. Brian plans to attend Langara College and eventually complete his studies at U.B.C.

Steve Grout and Fred Milton enjoy a rare sunny fall day by the doors of Lannon Hall.

FREDERICK JOSEPH WRAY MILTON

This year's Vice-President came to us six years ago from North Saskatchewan. Although shy by nature, Fred's intense eagerness to get involved has enabled him to accomplish much. An avid participant in sports, Fred has been in track, soccer and football for most of his school years. This year, however, his drive has been applied to another aspect of College life, as most of his time has been taken up by such activities as the VoiCe, the Lettermen's Club, the Poster Club and the Leadership Conference. In what little spare time he has, he enjoys skiing, sailing, tennis and music. Next year, Fred hopes to be in California studying philosophy.

NOEL KEVIN MULHERN

Since trudging out of the woods of North Vancouver eleven years ago, Noel has been constantly on the minds of many College teachers. When not expanding his mind, "Mulhern" finds time to enjoy the slopes and greens of Vancouver. After graduation, Noel plans to carry on family tradition by entering hotel management at B.C.I.T.

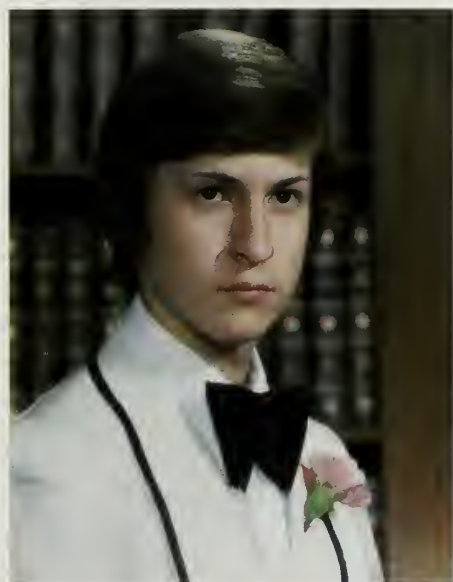

JOHN DOUGLAS NEGRIN

Since coming to V.C. in grade eight from St. Anthony's Elementary School, "Reno" has been actively involved in the football program. When not on the field eating up the competition, many of Reno's hours are spent organizing grad parties or just spending time with the boys. A resident of West Vancouver, being accustomed to the mountains, he also enjoys skiing the slopes of Whistler as a weekend retreat from the hustle and bustle of school. Plans for the future include a long holiday in Hawaii before returning to U.B.C. to attack the field of commerce and business management.

DUNCAN MICHAEL MOORE

Duncan arrived in grade nine via Lord Byng. An avid participant in intramurals, his favorite sports are soccer, tennis, football and volleyball. He represented our school in grades nine, ten and twelve as part of the soccer team. Duncan's weekends are packed with camping, hiking, canoeing, and skiing, and his lunch periods are usually spent playing football. After graduation Duncan hopes to travel in Europe for a month, then settle down to study at U.B.C.

MARC ANTHONY O'LOUGHLIN

This year's Student Body President came to V.C. in the spring of '76 from Sydney, Australia. Since grade 10 he has been actively involved in the Student Council, the track team, the school band (Marc's trumpet has become a regular feature at both the football and basketball games), and the V.C. Leadership conferences. This year he was involved in the organization of the Walkathon and was Director of the Collegian Ad Campaign. Having represented B.C. in cricket during the past two summers, Marc tried to organize a school team, but for some reason was unsuccessful! No doubt, Marc will be remembered by his peers for his ham sandwiches and, yes, that b . . . y accent of his. Marc, a consistent honour student, plans to study law at U.B.C., and eventually hopes to become a Foreign Diplomat.

MICHAEL JOHN O'BRIEN

Michael has been roaming the halls of College for five years since his arrival from St. Anthony's. In addition to his involvement in the Student Council and intramural activities, he has been an active supporter of the basketball program, having been a member of one of the teams every year. When not commuting to and from the North Shore, he enjoys cross-country skiing and tennis. Mike plans to work during the summer and earn enough money to get through a program in the Arts at university.

RENO C. NEGRIN and ASSOCIATES, ARCHITECTS

PETER EDWARD OLSON

Pete left O.L.P.H. five years ago to enter the good life of the College. Many good times have passed since, and he has developed into a handsome, mature young adult. To make his years of study more interesting, Pete has played football and basketball, and has contributed to the Student Council and College life. After-school activities include such interests as golf, skiing, hockey, and either working at a garage or on his precious '66 Mustang. Pete will be a freshman at U.B.C. this fall, studying business. Afterwards, of course, he will be a tremendously successful businessman.

JUAN MANUEL ORMAECHEA

A graduate of St. Francis de Sales, Manuel has perambulated these halls since grade eight. When not terrorizing the parking lots and streets of our fair city with one of his numerous cars, he helps to manage the family business or attends various high-class social events. After graduation, he plans to major in business administration at a university in the United States, later accumulating his first million.

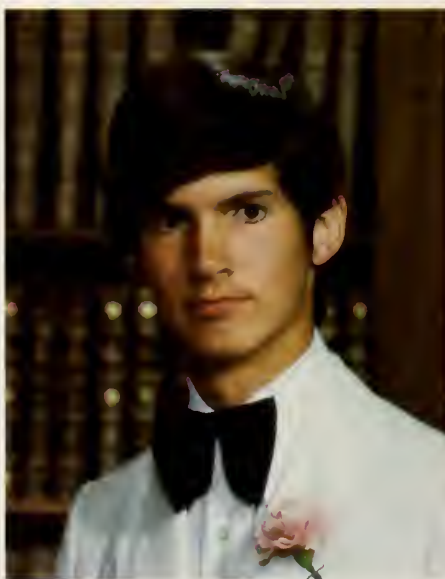

RICHARD CRAIG OWEN

Richard came to V.C. from Mountain Secondary in Langley for his last two years of high school. His extracurricular activities include playing badminton, hockey, and golf, not to mention participating in intramurals and playing soccer on the school team. Richard's main concern at present is the expansion of his building maintenance business. He intends to work during the summer, then enter U.B.C. to acquire a degree in commerce.

DONALD ERIC PANTON

A 3-year Junior Achievement executive, Don has prowled the halls of V.C. for five years since leaving Queen Mary Elementary. Besides perspiring in intramurals, he avoids chubbiness by cycling and participating in other various outdoor sports. Along with a university or college education, Don intends to travel and work in Europe and the South Seas.

JOHN FRANCIS PELLETREAU

In his ten years at College, "J.P." has found his simple philosophy, "All things have a point, though many are pointless," too simple for most people to comprehend. When not trying to explain himself, he is sometimes found washing glassware, experimenting in electronics, probing the depths of bio-feedback, or reading a textbook. His future goals include reading a 35 volume set of encyclopedias in one sitting, visiting a post office in the next star-system, and being on the moon at the turn of the century.

THE WILLIAM TELL RESTAURANT LTD.

GLENN ANTHONY PETTY

Glenn came to V.C. in grade two from Lord Kitchener Elementary. During his eleven-year stay at College he has taken part in such activities as soccer, basketball, football, intramurals and track. When he's not out on the town with friends or working on his "Classic" '69 Cortina, he likes to fish and swim, and to take part in other sports. Neil Smith demonstrates the fine art of doing homework before class, while Steve Raverty pays rapt attention.

RONALD CONRAD PINETTE

Since his arrival two years ago from Williams Lake, Ron's main contribution to V.C. has been his participation in sports, especially cross-country running. However, his greatest interest lies in racing go-karts — he has raced in the United States and attended the national championships at Quincy, Illinois. Second in Ron's interests are motorcycles, followed by skiing, snowmobiling, and hunting. His future plans are as yet uncertain, but he does have a few ideas concerning the field of business management.

BRUNO SIMON PORTES

A native of Beziers, France, Bruno came to Canada in 1974. He spent one year at Cambie School in Richmond to learn English before entering V.C. in grade nine. Outside of school he enjoys playing tennis and collecting stamps, as well as going to discos and movies on weekends. After spending the summer in France, Bruno will enter B.C.I.T. to earn a degree in Commerce.

STEPHEN ANTHONY RAVERTY

Steve's towering form first made its appearance seven years ago. His main interest during this time has been basketball, with biology running a close second. Weekends find Steve either dunking baskets at V.C. or doing fishy things at the Vancouver Public Aquarium in the capacity of aquarist. His present aim is to pursue Marine Biology/Oceanography at U.B.C., followed by post-graduate work at Scripps Institute of Oceanography, and, finally, to relieve Jacques Cousteau of his job!

MICHAEL IGNATIUS REILLY

During his eleven years at V.C., Mike has been on the track, soccer, cross-country and basketball teams, and has also been part of the Student Council and the Leadership Conferences. During his three year stint on the track team, he travelled to Washington, Oregon, and California to compete in four international meets. Although a perennial honor student, Mike still has time for such outside interests as skiing, girls, tennis, and swimming. Next year he intends to begin training for a career in aviation.

RONALD ALBERT RIEDER

Ron came to College in grade seven from Lord Selkirk Elementary School. Since then, he has been active in both organizing and participating in the intramural program, besides playing on the grade nine, Junior Varsity and Varsity basketball teams. Ed enjoys skiing at Whistler, hiking, camping and most other sports. He plans to attend B.C.I.T. next year, taking up electrical engineering.

GARY EMILIO SANVIDO

Athletically, Gary's stay at V.C. has been a most memorable one — he has earned a letter five times in football and in track. He has also participated in hockey, cheerleading, and Variety Night, as "Pinky" of the "Junior Four". Outside interests include partying, dancing, and soaking up the sun. Gary's academic future lies in the stimulating setting of S.F.U. He wishes the best of luck to the Graduating Class of 1979.

DAVID ANTHONY SEILER

David has been commuting from Richmond since grade eight. During this time he has supported the school as a basketball timekeeper, a member of the pep band, an intramural referee and participant, and an avid "Fighting Irish" fan. His outside interests include Cadets, gliding, soccer, and tennis. However, he has not let his active lifestyle interfere with his studies, as he is a four-year honour student. After graduation David intends to either enter U.B.C. or seek a career as a pilot in the Armed Forces.

Frank has also taken an active part in the organization of, and participated in, the intramural program, the VoiCe, the Student Council, cheerleading, the Liturgical Committee, and the Collegian as an editor and photographer. His outside interests include all sports, as well as art, chess, music, gambling, and photography. Frank intends to broaden the scope of his knowledge at U.B.C. in the study of commerce.

KENNETH ROBERT EDWARD SCOTT

"The sailor" has been voyaging from Richmond to V.C. for five years of intense academic concentration, resulting in a consistent record as a first class honour student. When not sailing and competing in various regattas all over the province and country, Ken can usually be found scuba diving, working an odd part-time job, or spending time with his friends. After graduation he plans to further his education in law or commerce at an Eastern or American university, and to continue sailing wherever the wind may blow.

CLIFFORD NEIL SMITH

Neil is one of our rare catches from Queen Mary School in Point Grey. Since coming to us in grade eight he has involved himself in such activities as the Leadership Conference, Student Council, intramurals and the Liturgical Committee. Neil also participated in the '78 Collegian as High School Editor and worked to improve the musical programmes of the past two years. When not involved in school activities, he can be found packing groceries at Buy-Low or playing tennis on the Jericho Hill courts. After spending the summer in Europe, Neil hopes to be a part of U.B.C.'s general science programme, later attending medical school in England.

MARC WILLIAM SPENCER

MARTIN PETER ANTHONY STASTNY

Martin came to the College from Montreal High School two short years ago, during which time he has grown to appreciate the many aspects of College life. In his leisure time Martin can almost always be found at Whistler, further perfecting his technique in his most beloved sport, skiing. When the ski season is over, Martin passes the time at his home in West Van playing tennis, waxing his skis and boots, and watching for the first signs of snow on the nearby mountains. Next year Martin plans to further his studies in the Sciences at U.B.C.

ROLAND DAVID JOSEPH ST. CYR

Since coming to V.C. from Ecole Saint-Sacrament in grade eight, Roland has shown poise and ability in both sports and studies. A consistent honor student, Roland has also actively participated in the intramural and soccer programs, but his greatest achievements came as the Editor of this year's edition of the Collegian. Outside of school, Roland's first love is being with his many friends. He also enjoys playing baseball, tennis, and the occasional round of golf. After graduation, Roland hopes to travel to either Florida or Hawaii before entering the University of Victoria, where he will study accounting.

JOHN ARTHUR STEKL

PETER JULIAN THRIFT

An active participant in intramurals and an avid football and basketball fan, Peter will most remember the College for the multitude of friends he has found here. A consistent honour student, Chris has served on both the Student Council and the Walkathon Committee, and in his last year at the school was Assistant Editor of the VoiCe. When out of class, Chris is devoted to music, being an avid piano player. He also enjoys travelling, having plenty of opportunities to visit his relatives all over the world. Chris' weekends are usually spent hunting for the nearest party. In the fall, he plans to enter either U.B.C. or B.C.I.T. to study electrical engineering, to later be applied in the field of acoustics.

Sports

The Irish tradition endures

Front Row: Peter Keyes, Joe Pulchny, Simon Bachmann, Bernie Marquardt, Joe Milton. Second Row: Matt Lakowski, Todd Lorenz, Tom Mulhern, Jim Kelly, A.J. Long, Fred Kozier, Brian Giefing, John O'Neill. Third Row:

Assistant Coach Tom Clarke, Loi Todesco, Rob Mackinnon, Alex Loboar, Bob Clarke, John Negrin, Joe Mackinnon, Damian Botteselle, Gary Sanvido, Coach Denis Kelly.

According to the pre-season ratings, this year's edition of the Fighting Irish football team was supposed to be spending its fall watching the high school playoffs, instead of competing in them. The trouble, however, was that the Irish believed in themselves and had SPIRIT! Despite two early setbacks to American schools they rolled through their regular season opposition with unmatched determination and desire to win, and ended up undefeated in B.C.

The climax of the regular season was a 3-0 victory over the arch-rival Independent League Notre Dame Jugglers, pre-season favorites to repeat as provincial champions. The victory placed the Irish on top of the Independent League, a position they have rightfully deserved for a long time.

College proceeded to play inspired ball in the playoffs, whipping Sardis and Kelowna soundly. Then, in the semifinals, the Irish faced a revitalized West Vancouver squad, and after losing Archbishop Trophy Game M.V.P. Gary Sanvido in the opening minutes, lost their momentum and were finally stopped.

This year's team deserves the heartiest congratulations we can give them. Seemingly from very little, they built a real powerhouse that nearly went all the way.

1. Nobody does it better than Headcoach Denis Kelly. 2. Camp Kelly '78 where it all began. 3. A.J. Long gets it away just in time. 4. A.J. calls the signals as John O'Neill prepares to snap the ball. 5. It was an injury-riddled season as exemplified by Jim Kelly. 6. Todd Lorenz pulls down an O'Dea ball carrier as his teammates come to his aid.

SEASON'S RECORD

V.C.		OPPONENT
0	O'Dea	38
23	West Vancouver	14
14	Sequim	29
15	Handsworth	6
20	John Oliver	14
8	St. Thomas More	0
31	Templeton	12
3	Notre Dame	0
PLAYOFFS
28	Sardis	8
28	Kelowna	0
0	West Vancouver	27

The climax:

1. Todd Lorenz demonstrates again the superb style that he used to give the Irish a 3-0 victory over Notre Dame. 2. The Irish express their jubilation after downing St. Thomas More 8-0. 3. A.J. Long fires a perfect spiral to Todd Lorenz. 4. Co-captains Tom Mulhern and Joe MacKinnon display the Skyline League and Archbishop's Trophies to the student body, as Bernie Marquardt looks on. 5. Gary Sanvido discusses defensive strategy with Coaches Choo and Kelly before the final play of the N.D. game. 6. The Irish charge out of the locker room, fired up and ready to tear the Jugglers apart. 7. Damian Botteselle listens intently in the defensive huddle as the Irish prepare to stop Templeton.

Irish defeat Jugglers!

Irish finish in top four — again!

1. Alex Loboza and Coach Kelly express their emotions after wiping out Kelowna. 2. Tom Mulhern proves again that he is one of B.C.'s top running backs. 3. Gary Sanvido follows Matt Lakowski's blocking after the handoff from A.J. Long. 4. Gary Sanvido punts it away as Simon Bachmann blocks against the Kelowna rush. 5. Todd Lorenz initiates the tackle as Alex Loboza comes charging in. 6. A West Van ball carrier is crushed by Joe Mackinnon, Brian Giefing and Todd Lorenz. 7. The white-eyed fury, Gary Sanvido, goes for a big gain against Sardis.

J.V.: A good foundation to keep the Irish rolling

Although they encountered an unsuccessful season, there were some bright spots in the lineup, such as Most Valuable Player Alan Sanvido and Most Improved Player Mike Torresan. Led by Most Valuable Lineman and Defensive Captain Dave Green along with Offensive Captain Eric Koban the team showed much courage and determination throughout the season. These, among others, will provide future hope for next year's varsity team.

1. Mike Tilbe punts on 4th and 7. 2. Eric Koban unleashes the ball over the outstretched arms of a Thomas More lineman.

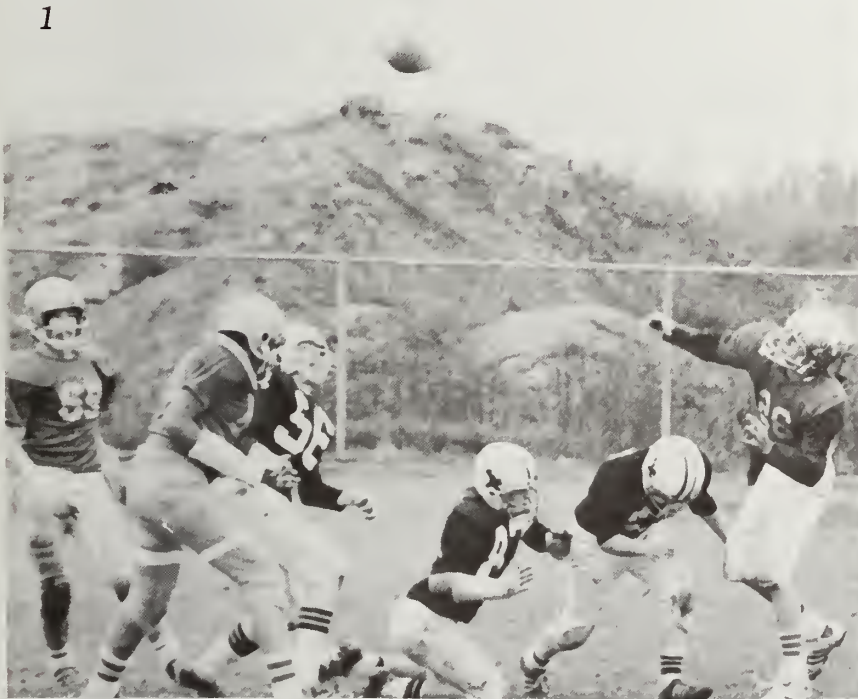

Grade 8: A team effort goes a long way

Front Row: Scott Richards, Matt Steele, Mike Olma, Dan Moroz, Bruce McCheyne, Max Johnston, Kevin Shaughnesay, Peter Grist. Second Row: Coach Wade Anderson, Colin Buckingham, John Rivera, Rod Hemming,

1

The 1978 Grade 8 football season saw the beginning of a new nine team league. This year's Grade 8 edition of Irish Football had a successful season finishing third with a 5-3 record. The team's performance can be said to be just that — a team performance. There were many good games with great individual efforts but each game saw new players being the stars.

1. Mike Olma releases the ball as a Cambie defender rushes in for the sack.
2. Peter Grist, with the blocking of Adrian Wijesinghe, races towards the end zone.

2

X-Country: Irish finish eighth in the Province.

Front Row: Chuck Reeve, Coach Emry, Tim Naas, Kevin Reilly. Second Row: Kevin Ridley, Mike Reilly, Fred Milton. Third Row: Mark Hartman, Brad Batsford.

This year, a much improved cross-country team finished 8th in the Province, moving up five places from last year. The team was led by Kevin Ridley who placed 56 out of a field of 431 at the Provincial finals in Victoria. Chuck Reeve and Mike Reilly were close behind finishing 63rd and 78th respectively.

1. The Irish begin their march to victory in the Independent Meet against Notre Dame. 2. Chuck Reeve leads the way with Mike Reilly and Brad Batsford hot on his trail.

Soccer: Second in the Community League.

Kaweski, Coach Boreham. Third Row: David Pacheco, Greg Wirtz, Duncan Moore, Mike Fahrman, Paul Catchpole, Eusebius Reyes.

Paced by Paul Lucas' 28 goals, the Irish had a very successful 10-2-1 season. The solid defense, backed by Mike Fahrman's 7 shutouts, allowed only 13 goals in as many games. The offense proved unstoppable, scoring 52 goals during the season. At the post-season banquet Captain Paul Lucas received the M.V.P. award, while Richard Owen earned the Most Improved Player award.

1. Another futile attempt to intercept Paul Lucas. 2. Mike Reilly drills one past the opposing goalie.

Swimming: Third in the C.Y.A. League.

Middle Row: Frank Kucera, Luke O'Loughlin, Joe Olma, Kerry Lucas, Eric Hansen. Back Row: Jason Clarke, Sean Love, Kris Kucera, Luis Maia, Coaches: Mark Feeney, and Br. Basha. Absent: Mario Felicella, Danny Moroz, Peter Maia.

1

The swim team is comprised of boys ranging from the ages of 9 to 12. These young men began practising early in the school year for the climax of their season, the annual C.Y.A. Swim Meet. At this year's meet, there were 22 teams, making the competition intense. The Irish swimmers did extremely well, with their 16 man team finishing third overall. Outstanding performances were recorded by Frank Kucera, Trevor Farenholtz, Jason Clarke, and Sean Love. The highlight of the meet occurred when Rod Hawkins received the aggregate trophy by winning the 60 metre freestyle, and coming second in the 4X20 individual medley and the 40 metre breast stroke.

1. Mark Feeney discusses strategy with the team before the C.Y.A. Meet. 2. Mario Felicella surges past Michael Hartley on his way to the finish.

Wrestling: V.C. wrestlers place well in Provincials.

Stewart Muir. Fourth Row: Chuck Reeves, Luis Rameriz. Absent: Rick Wagner, Haydn Ache, Brad Woods.

This year was a very successful year for the Irish wrestlers, especially the grade eights, with the majority of them finishing the season with winning records. The College showed well at most major tournaments with our wrestlers placing in the top four many a time. Twelve thousand wrestlers tried to qualify for the provincial finals in 14 weight classes with three V.C. wrestlers managing to get into the Provincial Championship. Excellent efforts were turned in by Stewart Muir and Paul Gipps, two Grade elevens, who came 7th and 8th respectively. With all but one wrestler returning, next year should prove to be one of the most productive.

1. Peter Grist tortures his Thomas More opponent. 2. Paul Gipps is victorious as his vanquished opponent walks away during B.C.H.S. Wrestling Championships.

Irish face a tough schedule!

Manager Justin Wyatt, Coach John Mills, Mike O'Brien, Frank Schober, Paul Toporowski, Kerwin Jarvis, Steve Raverty, Mark Hartman, Ron Rieder, Steve Grout, Alan Hemming, Alex Loboza, Manager Bernie Marquardt.

The 1978/79 Varsity Basketball Irish faced one of their most difficult schedules ever, consequently, their season was extremely up and down. The team had height and skills, but lacked experience. They began the season ranked no. 3 in the province, and managed to beat the then no. 1 team, M.E.I. Some of the other highlights of the season were victories over B.C. champs Burnaby South, B.C. Tourney participants Mt. Douglas and Magee, the visits of two Australian teams, and a perfect 4-0 record in the Independent League. The season ended for the team at B.C.I.T. when they blew a 13 point lead in one game, and lost a second by a close margin. Steve Raverty, in his senior year, played consistently well, although he often ran into foul trouble. Other standouts were Frank Schober and Paul Toporowski. The returning players should provide a solid base upon which to build next year's team.

1. And now, your Vancouver College Fighting Irish for '79.
2. Frank Schober demoralizes Conrad Sun as he lays one in. 3. Steve Raverty slams one home in practice. 4. The two opposing 14's collide on the way up at the start of the game.

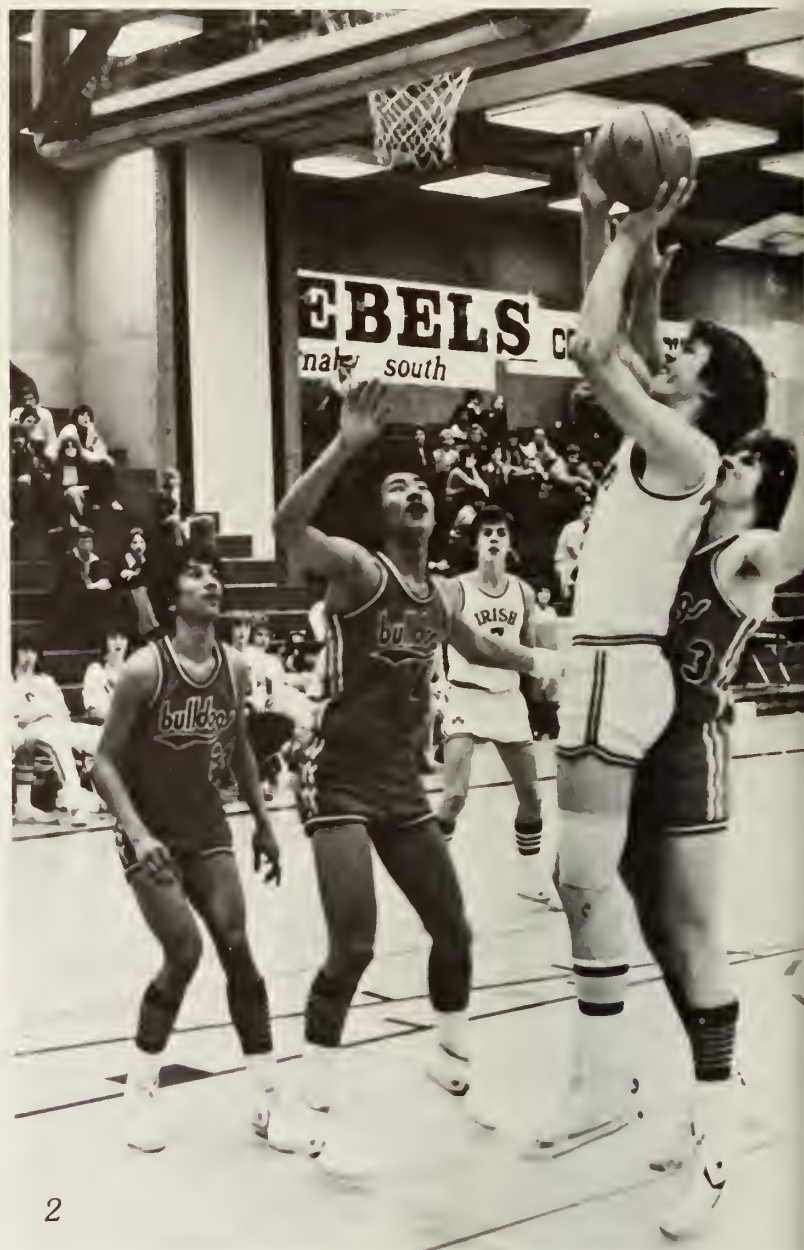

1. Alex Lobozaar streaks down court. 2. Mike O'Brien shows his excellent shooting form at STM. 3. Steve Raverty puts one up against the Australians. 4. Paul Toporowski shoots from an acute angle. 5. The whole bench waits in anticipation for Steve Raverty's shot to come down. 6. Alan Hemming pulls in the rebound. 7. Steve Grout looks for the open man.

1. Kerwin Jarvis shoots from his favorite spot, the corner. 2. Ron Rieder concentrates on an easy two. 3. "Look me straight in the eye and say that!" says Frank Schober. 4. Mark Hartman fights for a jump ball against Jannali of Australia.

J.V.'s finish fifth in the Province.

Front Row: Mike Correa, Peter Sartin, Jeff Charpentier, Andre Aquino, Joe Doyle. Back Row: Coach - Br. Howard, Chris Wills (manager), Stew Bailey,

The Junior Varsity put on an excellent show throughout the year. Sparked by M.V.P. Sean Doughty and Most Improved Player Tom Zavadil, this squad managed to take two out of four tournaments while finishing runner up in the remaining two. Br. Dawson's strong emphasis on defense led his team to a 24 - 8 record, good for 2nd in the Independent League. Honourable mention is much needed for Brother

Howard who assisted the team to a 4 - 0 record while Brother Dawson took his days off. Although they beat previously undefeated Hugh Boyd in the regular season, the trend couldn't keep up during the B.C.'s as they were knocked down into a still respectable fifth spot.

1. Eric Koban rushes for the basket. 2. Sean Doughty illustrates the style that made him M.V.P.

Grade 9: Finish first in Independent League.

Zavadil, Mike Stack, Paul Brown.

The grade 9 basketball team finished the season with a 16 - 8 record. During the year the players gelled together into a uniform force; their offensive execution, especially their fast breaks caused problems for many opponents. Led by the high scoring duo of Mike Correa and Mike Stack, the Fighting Irish scored an average of 55 points per game. Highlights throughout the season were numerous — the 73 - 61 victory over St. Thomas Moore, the first place finish in the Tsawwassen Tourney and the one point victory over Hugh Boyd. Along with the Tsawwassen Tournament championship the team was co-winner of the Independent League and finished 2nd and 3rd in their two other tournaments.

Grade 8's subdue their opposition.

Hemming, Marc MacMullin, Coach Ten Hon Choo. Missing: Martin Tremblay.

The Grade 8 basketball team ended the season with 24 wins against 3 losses including first place finishes in all three tournaments entered: the New Westminster, Westview, and D.W. Poppy Tournaments. This accomplishment was made possible through an excellent defense and an unstoppable offense. The team's success can be attributed to their drive to win and the constant co-operation among the team members. M.V.P. Rod Hemming was selected to the all-star team in each of the three tournaments, along with John Rivera and Sean Koban.

1. Top scorer Rod Hemming shows how baskets are scored. 2. Andy Cheung hits from the foul line.

Grade 7: Our hope for the future.

The team had a record of 21 wins and 7 losses finishing 2nd in their division. The team showed what they were capable of doing by defeating St. Helen's in the championship game of our own tournament. John Clarke was chosen M.V.P. for the tournament and fine performances were also registered by Mark Roller and Augusto Syjuco. John Clarke and Troy Lucas proved to be the most valuable assets to the team as they kept the opposition at bay with their skillful ball control and adept passing. Together they were undoubtedly the best pair of guards in grade 7 basketball history. Although the team did not have a completely successful season, the players show much hope for the years to come.

1. Todd Lucas dribbles past a lone defender. 2. John Clarke makes it look easy.

Grade 6: First in the C.Y.A. League

Front Row: Pat Bingham, Harvey Hill, Brian Chanpong, Stuart Gray, Matthew Bingham, Mark Butschler, Frank Clarke. Back Row: Paul Bachmann, David

The grade six record of 22 wins and 1 defeat has led them to one of the most impressive in the school's history. Even more impressive was that more than half of their victories were over Grade 7 teams. This year's team showed great willingness to learn and a natural feel for the concept of team basketball. Leading scorer for this year's team was Patrick Bingham followed closely by Matthew Bingham and Paul Bachman. Outstanding defensive players were Stuart Gray and Patrick Guzman. "1979, a true team effort."

1. Paul Bachmann looks on in awe as Patrick Guzman shoots for a basket. 2. Stuart Gray displays his unique form.

A break from the normal routine

To escape from the monotonous yearly intramural routine of floor hockey, basketball and volleyball, Mr. Bell initiated the forerunner of what will surely become an annual event of V.C., the First Annual Indoor Track Meet. To encourage participation and school spirit, the student body was divided into four "houses", and points were awarded for everything from the best decorating to the fastest balloon-blowing.

For weeks up to the scheduled date of March 28th, public address announcements fostered the meet, posters spread the word, and spirit grew, but when the first whistle blew, even the most optimistic were surprised. The gym was packed with parents, relatives, teachers and screaming, ecstatic students displaying their team colors. In the true spirit of athletics, the Red Devils and the Black Knights tied for first place, while the Blue Angels and the Purple Tide settled for third and fourth, respectively.

1. Mr. Doyle searches hard but cannot find a flaw in the performance of the Junior Red Devils mat race team. 2. "You call that a good job!" exclaims Mr. Kavalec as he judges the 'paper ripping contest'. 3. Mark Hagemoen proved to possess a fine piggy back for Damian Botteselle. 4. Spirit grows in the Black Knights' corner as they catch up and eventually tie with the Red Devils. 5. Mr. Sponza just felt a sudden urge to do a pushup. 6. One of Mr. Bell's (far left) many good choices in his duties as the meet organizer was to pick an admirable crew of judges, scorekeepers and announcers.

The Irish make tracks!

Under the expert guidance of Head Coach Greg Emry, this Year's Irish Track Team showed great promise, and looked likely to follow in the footsteps of last year's record setting team. Most of the athletes showed dedication and determination, as they began training in the fall, for the spring track season. Heading the Irish were six grade twelves, who provided both inspiration and leadership. The team was involved in many meets, and always put up a great fight. One of the more interesting of this year's meets was a competition between the Irish, and the track teams from North Thurston High School from Washington State, and Mount Douglas from the Island. The Irish won the meet by a small margin.

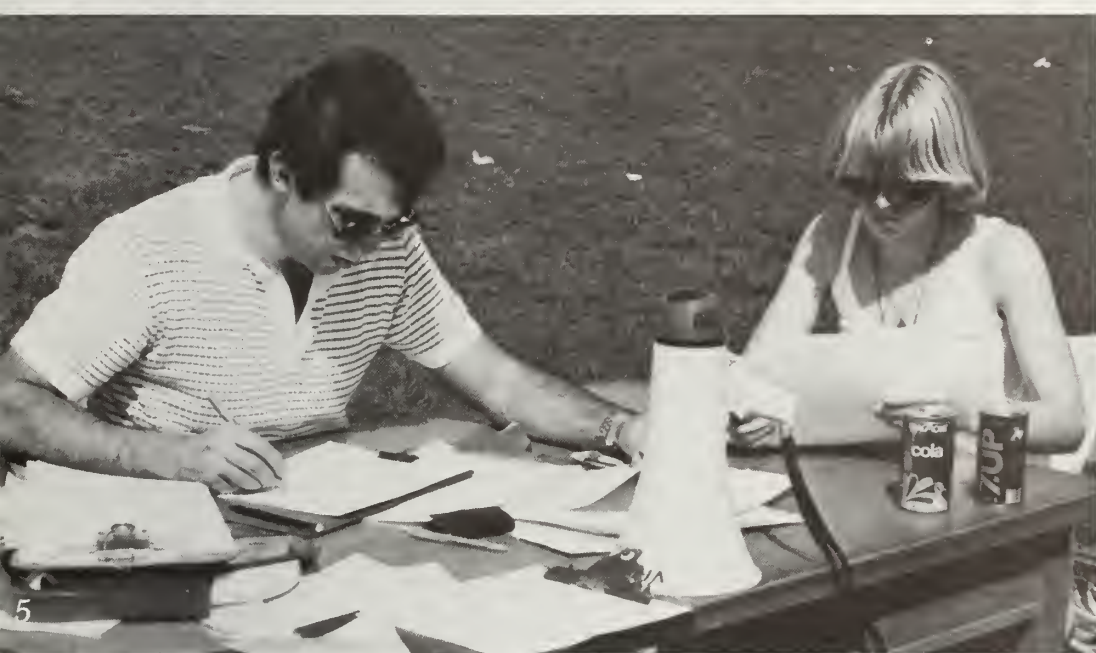

1. Head Coach Emry and Assistant Coach Doyle watch intently as another race comes to a close. 2. The Irish warm up prior to the season. 3. Joe Milton stretches his sides in preparation for another workout. 4. Paul Toporowski steadily gains on his opponent. 5. Mike Tilbe and Jim Keyes sprint it out.

1. Paul Toporowski displays classic form, as he waits in confidence for his legs to follow the rest of his body. 2. Rob Mackinnon, grimacing with exhaustion, bears down on the finish line. 3. Tim Fanning hefts the shot put a respectable distance on Bob Clarke. 4. Peter Erceg fights for air, as Ted Herb watches for a foul takeoff. 5. Mr. Sponza and Friend (!) tabulate the results. 6. Dan Hagemoen thinks "That'll teach that nasty seagull", as he fires the javelin home. 7. Steve Grout passes it on to Fred Milton. 8. Haydn Ache grins in relief, as he turns the responsibility over to Joe Milton.

High School

Revealing the mysteries of the universe

In the midst of a scientific age, Vancouver College endeavours to keep pace with the continual change that occurs. The Science Department is no exception, as it introduced and improved several courses this year: Human Biology for grade eleven and an updated Chemistry 11 syllabus.

1. Mr. Kavalec demonstrates the right way to butcher a starfish. 2. Justin Wyatt tries it out for himself. 3. "It's very simple. $xn = (n-1/2)L(d)$, and Tab A fits perfectly in Slot B," explains Mr. VanderSande to a puzzled Paul Smith. 4. Grade nine general science students study the relationship between force and motion.

Foreign Languages — cosmopolitan communication

French and Spanish are the two languages offered as electives. The varied curriculum lends itself to the use of much audio-visual resource material.

1. Joel Dumaesq and Mark Cadinha rack their brains to come up with the past participle of mourir. 2. Mr. Bell gives his opinion to a distressed Rick Wagner. 3. Spanish 10 students look on apprehensively as Mr. Crame prepares their Christmas reports. 4. The conditional tense is too much for some French students, but Mike Kaweski and Tony Macken are still surviving.

Led by President Kent Tunstall, 112 is a happy mixture of varied personalities who at one time can be scrappy individualists and, at another time, a cohesive group working toward a common goal. Strong lungs and high spirits attest to their presence at school games and to their participation in other activities. Even when their exuberance occasionally demands correction under Mr. Matusicky's watchful eye, they respond to the discipline in good spirit. They are resilient.

As always, this generous class led Grade 11 in missions and intramurals.

1. Andrew Fairley makes effective use of Mr. Bell's audio-visual equipment for a French report.

Homeroom 115, being a rather small class of only 21 students, was a closely united group. Not necessarily superb athletically, its support of the intramural program was enthusiastic and abundant. The class members, led by President Mike Kaweski, were involved in all aspects of V.C. life — athletics, academics, and yearbook, to name a few.

1. Ray Dagenais and Frank Chan demonstrate two quite different study techniques.

Our world and its history

In his second year as head of the Socials department, Br. Kenny strives to raise the over-all level of achievement by getting the students to think more objectively. A notable change in the courses was the increased emphasis placed on essay writing as opposed to the mere memorization of facts and dates.

1. Grade nines in their final cram before an exam. 2. Mr. Sponza holds his class in rapt attention. 3. and 4. Mr. Kelly has just given his class another assignment; The tiger on the wall expresses the students' disapproval.

To understand God better

Undeniably our largest department, the Religion Department sets Vancouver College apart from the public schools. Br. Dawson has worked tirelessly to provide a program centered around our individual responsibility to grow as persons. The introduction of a retreat program, class liturgies, and a variety of guest speakers all aid in accomplishing this goal.

1. Retreats are an important aspect of our religious training. Here Fr. McLeod celebrates Mass with a group of grade nines. 2 Br. Martin reads a selection from Understanding Christian Worship. 3. A Pro-Life representative talks to Religion 11 students about abortion. 4. and 5. What's green and drills holes? . . . A drill pickle!

This class, as a group, has blended well since September. Led by president Dino Georgas and vice-president Steve Lyons, they are a willing group of individuals with enough Christian charity to help one another. They make visible this charity through their contributions to the missions, the intramural program, and their involvement in activities.

1. John Little and Conor Murphy turn their attention to the explosion at the back of the Physics lab. 2. It's a wonder Dan Paris made it through the year! . . .

One of the distinguishing features of 103 is the individuality of its members, whether it be on the sports field or in the classroom. This class participates actively in intramurals and has members in the Varsity and Junior Varsity basketball and football teams. Jeff Charpentier and Mike Hirschprung have provided real leadership, while the day to day activities of the class were overseen by Mr. Mills. Individuality is the motto for grade 103.

1. Br. Furey prays that his class will eventually attain enlightenment. 2. Paul Brown's serving is the embodiment of professional technique.

The first impression that strikes most onlookers about class 92 is that this was a very spirited, lively, and, at times, unruly bunch. Underneath this boisterous and casual exterior was found no small measure of generosity. Indeed, whenever treasurer Vince Dziekan brought the missions cup around, it never came back less than half full. Once again, Br. Basil's mere presence at homeroom seemed to inspire the charitable nature in all his students, as, in the past, homeroom 92 collected the highest missions total in the school for the year. Not to be outdone, President Paul Richards made sure that 92 participated fully in all the intramurals.

Room 94 must be the most consistently decorated class in V.C. One glance at the mural of 165 Sports Illustrated covers, from as far back as 1969, lining 3 walls will tell you why. This is but one of the reasons that Mr. Hallam thinks that his homeroom class is the most original in the school. To further back his belief, 94 was also the first class to donate Christmas hampers to the needy. Class officers Mario Montessori, Chris McNeill and Stephen Ho did a fine job of carrying out other ideas and plans that the class thought up during the year.

Wednesday afternoons — a change of pace.

What is needed to create the complete student? A burning question and one that Vancouver College attempts to solve. Textbooks and lessons obviously contribute to a balanced student, but extracurricular activities have a place in today's school.

Every Wednesday for nine weeks, students from grades eight to twelve participate in many varied activities, ranging from chess to skiing, photography to woodwork, and art to bowling. Why? A student needs to develop and experience many different interests and Vancouver College strives to give this opportunity. Everyone has their own personal interests and each Wednesday allows everyone to go and do the things he desires. Activities, whether school or play contribute to the ongoing development of the high school student.

1. Keith Roscoe and Frank Geier have taken the Audio-Visual activity to prepare for their careers as T.V. cameramen and producers. 2. Todd Lorenz puts his famous backspin serve to good use. 3. The defense parts in fear as Mike Corea prepares for another devastating spike. 4. John Pelletreau shows Mike Kenney the intricate workings of his homemade computer. 5. Stamp collecting — a rewarding international hobby. 6. The expression on Jim Genac's face surely shows how seriously he takes his bowling. 7. Brian McKeown wonders how he is going to get out of this predicament.

Something very interesting has obviously caught the attention of our swimmers. 8. Brian MacKay and Bernie Marquart prepare themselves for the dangers of the sea by first practicing indoors.

Nineteen seventy-eight, seventy-nine has seen the student council involved in the walkathon, rallies, missions, and the general betterment of Vancouver Colleges' school spirit. Under the leadership of President Marc O'Loughlin and Vice-President Fred Milton, the council has worked towards making our school a better place for both the students and faculty. The "man from down under" and his team of co-workers worked together well; co-operation as their trademark.

1. Fred Milton, our student body Vice-President helps Jim Favaro plan for his college future. 2. "Fair Dinkum (mate)."

The "VoiCe" of the students.

Once again the Voice staff has had the arduous task of putting together the Voice, and that is a full time job. Editor Joe Creegan and Moderator Mr. Lattimer as well as typists, advisors, scriptwriters, editors and printers have worked since September to put out the periodical. Long hours and hard work have paid off, as is seen by the results.

1. Mr. Lattimer and Joe Creegan put together and arranged our favorite newspaper. 2. Schober sifts through another super special sports story. 3. It's spelled V-O-I-C-E not V-O-W-C-E, says the editor Joe Creegan to Justin Wyatt.

We do it all for you!

The job was long and tedious, but the satisfaction of the final product has been well worth the effort. Many people are to be commended for their share in the publication and indeed the excellence of this issue of the Collegian.

A very capable and competent staff was led by Roland St. Cyr (editor) and Br. Paul Raymond (moderator).

The Collegian staff is only the nucleus around which many people make generous contributions of time and energy. We are indebted to Mrs. Davis and Miss DeVita for their artistic input. We thank Br. Maher for his photography workshop and Mr. Norm Shaw for his endless hours of advice and assistance. Also, thanks to Br. Furey, Peter O'Loughlin, Mark Hagemoen and Mrs. Naas for their assistance with copy writing. We wish to thank you, the student body, for your patience and cooperation.

1. The tedious job of copy editing was left in the capable hands of Ivan Revelant. 2. Gerry Belgardt "... lets his fingers do the walking". 3. Rob Johnstone, our sports editor, stops at his locker for a quick pose. 4. Roland St. Cyr works tirelessly at checking layouts. 5. Under the guidance of Marc O'Loughlin, this year's ad campaign collected a record high of well over $14000.

First Row: Mr. Norm Shaw, Frank Geier, Roland St. Cyr, Br. Paul Raymond, Dan Paris, Clarence Hui. Second Row: Chris Ho, Marc O'Loughlin, Roger Grover, Stephen Lim, Peter Heah, Brent Done. V.C. — L.F.A. celebrate 10th anniversary.

After nine years of presenting superlative musicals the V.C./L.F.A. Musical Society was very pleased to mark its 10th Anniversary with its fine rendition of Cole Porter's "Anything Goes."

The musical's demanding production numbers, fast moving pace, and vibrant tempo was delightfully tempered with crowd pleasing humour. Included were Cole Porter hits such as: "Its Delovely," "Friendship," "Bon Voyage," "Heaven Hop," "Blow Gabriel Blow" and "You're the Top" — just to mention a few. The fact that the musical numbers were performed with such expertise proved that many hours of work had been put into them. These practises were held under the supervision of Music Director Mr. Kazun, and the extremely talented director-choreographer Grace MacDonald.

Handled by Br. Furey, the technical aspects of the production were also well done. Sets, props, costumes, lighting, sound and other odd jobs, contributed immensely to the enjoyable quality of the evening.

Judging from the three performances, the cast and crew of Anything Goes deserve a round of applause.

1. and 2. Ted Herb worked the follow spots while Jim Watts took care of the sound effects. 3. Grace MacDonald gives advice to Michel Paris on how to portray the part of Bonnie. 4. Mark Hageameon and Dolly Lakowski find out that love really is "Delovely." 5. The cast warmed up before every practice by doing scales. 6. Paul Borchert performs as a parson propped on his perch. 7. Jim and Lynette Lattimer were just a few of the many who provided entertainment at the very successful Musical Benefit Dinner Dance.

"Anything Goes" was simply "Delovely!"

1. The entire cast, orchestra and production staff pose for a group shot after the Friday night performance. 2. The Angels make Mr. Whitney (Gerhard Unger) feel welcome. 3. Reno Sweeny (Susie Mackinnon) lures cameraman (Greg Wirtz) to take pictures of her and her Angels. 4. Mrs. Harcourt (Leanora Lakowski) and the Captain (Bruce Calkins) make acquaintances as Billy Crocker (Mark Hagemoon) deviously writes the phrase "I luv you" on the Captain's back. 5. Hope Harcourt (Dolly Lakowski) tries to get serious but Sir Evelyn just wants to play. 6. The leads find out what "Friendship" is really like. 7. "And you stand there in your nakedness," says Moonface Martin (Paul Borchert) as he walks in on an unexpected Sir Evelyn (Charles Ivancic). 8. Bonnie (Michel Paris) and the sailors prepare to do the "Heaven Hop."

The morale of Class 72 is high this year, and the spirit is one of awareness. Nurse Patterson and Br. Raymond have put great emphasis on "getting to know yourself." This self-awareness program will take time to bear fruit but, from the reaction of the class, the knowledge that each person is unique and has something to offer seems to be getting through.

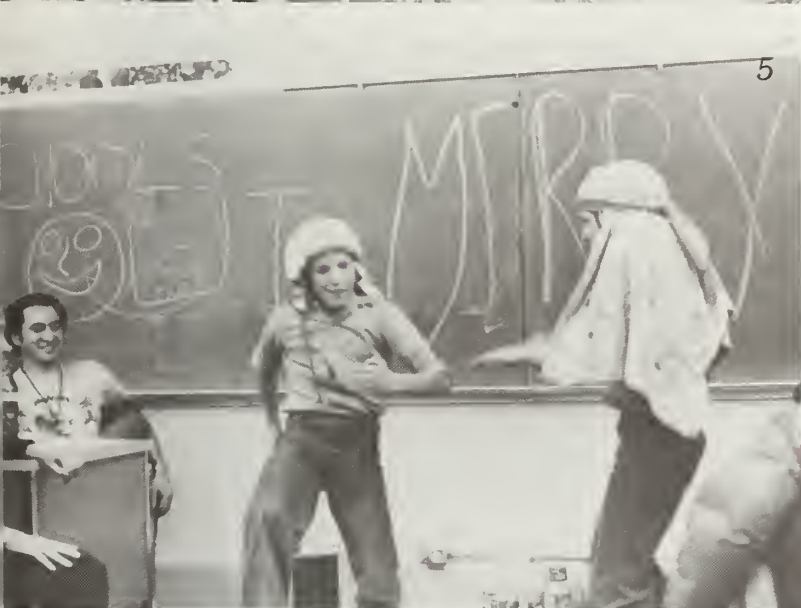

1. Chris Dziekan is in the depths of thought while Jon and Jason peruse the latest issue of Superman.

Brother Conti exudes a unique style in the classroom. His team approach in gaining marks lends a sense of support to many students and fosters responsibility among his students. You don't often find a class that likes school, but we seemed to have one in Mrs. Cheesman's Grade Twos. This class was interested in learning and enjoyed every subject. Although they were just a bit chatty, Mrs. Cheesman enjoyed the year anyway with this generous, fun loving group.

Like all grade one classes, this year's is enthusiastic, energetic and fun-loving. But there is one notable difference: their heroes begin with Luke Skywalker and R2D2 and their games are futuristic and computerized. We become more aware that with this group we are well on the way to a space-age society. Just try to imagine what life will be like in 1990 when they will be the graduating class of V.C.

1. Peter Fahrman grimaces when he realizes there is much more of this before graduation.

"Tomorrow belongs to them."

Displaying their enthusiasm in getting involved today, the Grade Ones and Twos show great potential for the future.

1. Look out Argentina! Future Canadian soccer stars mix it up. 2. Paul Kreeft shows his anxiety as Stephen McNamara prepares to stroke the vicious Siberian hamster. 3. An Indian Powwow? No, just the grade two Christmas play performers waiting for the Grade Threes to finish. 4. The Grade Ones prepare for the holiday by indulging themselves at a Christmas party. 5. The Grade Ones and Twos show how seriously the Walkathon should be taken as they march for millions. 6. Marc Pelletreau looks bemused as he has trouble reading his own writing. 7. Mrs. Campbell holds up Santa's awesome hulk as Doug Oddy tries to get at the presents.

Walkathon

This year a proposed outdoor track was the incentive for the effort of the many people that helped make Irish Miles '78 a phenomenal success. Br. Basil once again organised the walk which raised $22,800 and numerous water blisters towards the cause.

1. Mr. Anderson signs the walkathon cards in the gymnasium the morning of the walk. 2. Mrs. McLean leads grades one to three on their grueling 25 block walk to Maple Grove Park and back. 3. "They're off!" as Br. Basil signals the start of the 25 kilometre race organized by Mr. Emry. 4. A rest stop in Stanley Park with refreshments was provided for the 'old and the lame'. 5. Everyone seemed to have a 'heel' of a time throughout the entire walk as demonstrated by these grade eights. 6. Numerous parents donated their time to serve as checkpoint markers. 7. Joseph Olma and his seagull contemplate life on the seawall in Stanley Park.

Librarians

The creation of the new library placed an even greater load on the librarians this year. The task, however, was handled remarkably well from the very first day by Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Naas who solved all problems and kept the students from getting lost in the vast expanses of the library.

1 and 2. Mrs. Sendall kept the junior library humming while Mrs. Turner, atypical of many others, volunteered her time to library work. 3. As it has been for ages, is now, and ever shall be, Mrs. Naas did everything from sharpening pencils to handling the audio-visual material. 4, 5 and 6. The librarians did a variety of interesting and possibly not so interesting chores as evidenced by Mrs. Fanning, Mrs. Thrift, and Mrs. Newton.

You've considered the car. Pacific GMC invites you to consider the alternatives.

The car was all right in its time. But for you and your active family, that time is past. You're entering the space age. You need more space for people, more space for cargo. You also need the kind of guts engineering that will get you to the exciting places you're going. And back.

That's why it's time you considered one of the New Alternatives from Pacific GMC. Plan to spend some time with us: it's not going to be an easy choice. Because no one vehicle can suit all the people all the time, General Motors makes a tremendous selection of body styles and sizes. We can show you Pickups, Vanduras, Suburbans and Rally Wagons — to say nothing of the factory options.

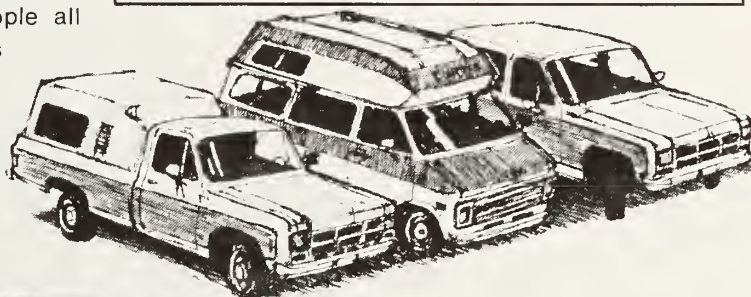

The list is so long, you can practically design your own dream machine.

So take a test-trip this week with one of the specialists at Pacific GMC. We've been showing British Columbians better ways to go for more than twenty years.

Now it's your turn.

Just call me . . .

Family Day

The third annual Family Day, which took place on Sunday, September 17th, was graced with gorgeous weather and a large turnout of students, families, and friends of the school. Organized once again by the incomparable Br. Dawson, Family Day went smoothly from the very first whistle at noon, to the last of the dessert stuffing in the late evening.

1. The mayhem was adeptly kept in control by Mark Hagemoen, who organized the races. 2. Mark Bachmann (extreme left), one of our illustrious alumni, and his 'rider' lead the charges during the piggyback race. 3. In the brilliant sunshine, Br. Maher impresses a group of Family Day visitors with his philosophies of life. 4. Volleyball proved to be the most popular game, as demonstrated by these hardy souls. 5. At five o'clock, the playing stopped as all took time to attend the mass held in the gym.

Band and Liturgical Committee

The success of the school masses was due, in no small part, to the band and the liturgical committee. These two well organized groups created a pleasant atmosphere and were instrumental in setting the mood and theme of the occasion.

1. Mrs. Davis and Mark Hagemoen, along with Mr. Kazun, led the way at the school masses. 2. Paul Pelletreau's "beautiful noise" could always be heard coming from the rear of the band. 3. The mastermind behind the 78-79 edition of the band was once again Mr. Gordon Olson. 4. The entire band performs for the student body at the Christmas mass. 5. Br. Dawson's liturgical committee seems to get better each year and this year's edition was no exception.

The May Fair was once again a great success. Organized by Robin Hill, Ray Olma, Tony Roscoe and George Gray, this Year's Fair was much more fun, with numerous exciting activities (including a Science Fair) and great entertainment and food. The Accounting 12 class was in charge of the Raffle, purchasing the Jeep, the main prize, organizing the student assembly, giving prizes to student salesmen, etc. As usual, a tremendous amount of effort was put into the Fair by parent volunteers, and to them we owe a hearty thanks.

1. Jeff Palmer's project goes up in smoke at the Science Fair. 2. Ray Olma sticks out his tongue at photographer Br. Raymond, as Mrs. Mawhinney grins with glee. 3. Jonathan Gregory glances sideways at his opponent's cards. 4. Danny Moroz gets scrambled. 5. Lee does a "well done" job.

A tribute to many volunteers.

The senior library has seen some exciting developments in the past few years.

It all began in 1974/75, when a group of volunteer mothers took a course in basic library skills through Douglas College and undertook a major upgrading of the library. Mrs. Kathleen Murray took charge of the operation in 1975, and under her capable supervision, outdated books were weeded out, new ones purchased and a major recataloguing was begun.

The work of this group continued steadily for three years. The old facilities were soon outgrown and moving was the only logical step. The old junior dormitory was selected to become the area for the new library. In 1978 the principal, architect and library staff held discussions on the proposed centre. Mrs. Naas, the Audio-Visual Coordinator, worked untiringly to search out the information and ideas on layout and equipment that would make this the most efficient and useful centre possible.

Now called the Resource Centre, it is more than twice the size of the old library, with plenty of room for growth, (a workshop and bindery area has been set up for processing, cataloguing and repair of books. There is a seminar room for meetings and small classes, and a large, well equipped audio-visual area). The audio-visual department's dramatic growth over the past few years owes much to the knowledge and dedicated efforts of Mrs. Naas. We are also grateful to the volunteer mothers who still provide much appreciated assistance in the daily running of the resource centre.

Staff, students and parents were shocked and deeply saddened in early February by the sudden death of Mrs. Murray, only a few months after the opening of the centre. They all knew that her keen professionalism and her interest in our students combined to form a driving force behind the development of the library. More than her dedication, there was a prevailing sense of care and concern that the students discover the treasures her books had to offer.

Many of the people who worked with Kathy came away with another sort of treasure born of her deep and personal faith in God and in prayer. Her quiet way masked a fervour that was rich in the intangibles that we all find so elusive. We shall surely miss her wisdom and her presence. The new resource centre will house an appropriate plaque to honour her memory.

1. Mrs. Murray in the work space of the old library. 2,3. Books were packed away and the junior dorm was dismantled. 4. Gary Norman, A.J. Long, John O'Neill and Roland St. Cyr use the new resource centre to the fullest. 5-6. Mrs. Nass discovers the convenience of her new audio-visual area. 7. The Resource officially opened in September.

"You have set your heart on building a house for my name, and in this you have done well." (1 Kings 8:18).

The Beginning of a Vision

Many dreams are born in the heart of the one who searches for God. Perhaps the most persistent searcher and the greatest visionary of our Judaeo-Christian roots is the Psalmist, King David. Even this great 'dreamer' could find no sleep for his eyes until he had first established a resting place for God.

"I will not enter the house where I live, nor go to the place where I rest.

. . . till I find a place for the Lord, a dwelling for the Strong One of Jacob."

This is an eternal truth for man — the individual and the community. We hunger for a place in our personal and collective lives for God. Thus, the presence of the Holy Eucharist in our school serves as a special reminder and assurance of our oneness with all men "through Him, with Him, and in Him". Our school chapel motivates us to constantly recall our Christian mission to take the Lord to others wherever we go.

The vision of a chapel here at Vancouver College began with the principalship of Brother Maher. Its construction is a great credit to the kind of tone it serves to set in the place of Catholic Education. As a Catholic Community, therefore, we are fortunate that Brother considered this to be one of the top priorities on his list of renovations for our school. Indeed, we are privileged to have such a beautiful chapel.

Compliments of
W.R. USSNER
